

BURLESON OF TEXAS CORE IN CABINET

So Says the Gossip Which Also Eliminates Congressman Henry of Waco From Further Consideration.

CAUCUS PLANS INDICATE A SLATE

Austin Congressman Will Not Stand for Chairman Again—Bryan, McAdoo and Josephus Daniels Said to Be Sure.

Washington, Feb. 25.—It was stated positively tonight in high congressional quarters closely identified with the incoming administration of President Wilson that the following cabinet appointments had been determined upon definitely:

Secretary of State, Wm. J. Bryan of Nebraska.
Secretary of the Treasury, Wm. G. McAdoo of New York.
Postmaster General, Albert S. Burleson, Texas.

Secretary of the Navy, Josephus Daniels, North Carolina.
The foregoing names and positions are said to have been advanced entirely by the state of conjecture or gossip and become finalities in the forthcoming cabinet list. Other places in the cabinet are said to be reasonably settled with the exception of the portfolios of war and agriculture.

Palmer Goes to Caucus Head.
The name of Representative A. Mitchell Palmer of Pennsylvania, which has been prominently mentioned in connection with the attorney generalship, now is definitely eliminated. It appears that a cabinet position was tendered to Mr. Palmer and declined, the decision being that he would remain in the house of representatives to be in a sense the personal representative of President Wilson in important legislation about to be formulated. This plan was carried into partial execution late today when the announcement of Representative Burleson that he would resign the position of chairman of the Democratic house caucus at an early date, was coupled with the announcement by house leaders that Mr. Palmer would succeed him as chairman of the caucus.

Burleson Crowds Out Henry.
Other names which have been prominently mentioned for the attorney generalship, but which now are definitely eliminated from the cabinet, are Chancellor Walker of New Jersey, and Representative Henry of Texas. Chancellor Walker was highly regarded and it is probably due to his own wishes that his name is no longer considered. The determination of Representative Burleson of Texas for the postmaster generalship had the natural effect of eliminating Mr. Henry's name from further consideration, he also being from Texas.

Place for Goethals.
Information from other sources gave assurance that Col. George W. Goethals, chief engineer and chairman of the Panama canal commission, was under consideration for secretary of war. Some close friends of the incoming administration have felt that a lawyer should be chosen as head of the war department, in view of the legal questions involved relating to the Panama canal, the Philippines and other matters, and they point to the line of lawyers who have headed the department, such as Root, Taft, Dickinson and Stimson.

Leaders Profess to Know.
Cabinet gossip today also took a decidedly active turn about the capital and for the first time Democratic leaders professed to speak with definiteness on many of the phases relating to the official family of President-to-be Wilson. But the leaders would not permit their names to be used as authority for cabinet predictions.

As to the cabinet as a whole, it was said that this had been completed with the exception of two portfolios—secretary of war and secretary of agriculture. It was understood the entire cabinet had been formulated and that reconsideration had become necessary concerning some of the personnel, probably the two positions, war and agriculture, now remaining open.

Burleson Is Settled.
Concerning those who are believed to be included in the cabinet list as now made up, the name of William J. Bryan for secretary of state was looked upon as definitely settled. Democratic leaders, both in the senate and house treated this as one of the phases of the cabinet beyond further doubt. Another name referred to with definiteness was that of Representative Albert S. Burleson of Texas as postmaster general, who, however, it was said, might be shifted to the secretaryship of the interior department before the cabinet is announced.

Other names settled upon, gossip has it, were those of Josephus Daniels of North Carolina, democratic national committeeman from that state, usually referred to in connection with the navy portfolio, and William G. McAdoo of New York, whose probable place the leaders refused to designate. Some of the information available was of a negative character on names which had been prominently mentioned.

Will Not Be Henry.
It was stated with positiveness that neither Representative Robert L. Henry of Texas nor Chancellor Edward R. Walker of New Jersey would be designated as attorney general, while Representative A. Mitchell Palmer of Pennsylvania, at one time regarded as a likely candidate, is probably eliminated through the desire of President-elect Wilson to utilize his services in important work to be formulated soon in the house of representatives.

Strength was added to the report of Mr. Burleson's selection as a member of the cabinet, when, as chairman of the house democratic caucus, he issued the following statement late today:

"When I call the democratic caucus to order on the fifth day of March I shall ask it to select my successor. I will not be a candidate to succeed myself. I have nothing to add to this statement."

Members of the house generally regarded this statement as a certain indication that Mr. Burleson has accepted a cabinet portfolio.

William G. McAdoo.
Mr. McAdoo, in the recent campaign, was a prominent figure and was in charge of the Democratic forces much of the time in the illness of National Chairman McCombs. He has been associated with some of the foremost business operations in American history, including the building of the so-called McAdoo tunnels under the Hudson river in New York.

Josephus Daniels.
Josephus Daniels, Raleigh, N. C., has been long a Democratic national committeeman from his state. He is the editor of the Raleigh News and Observer. In the last Cleveland administration, Mr. Daniels was in Washington as chief clerk and assistant clerk of the interior department under Secretary Hoke Smith, now senator from Georgia.

A. S. Burleson.
Representative Burleson of Austin, Texas, has served nearly fifteen years in congress, having been first elected to the Fifty-sixth congress and was re-elected to the Sixty-third congress last fall.

He was one of the staunch supporters of Governor Wilson in the house of representatives from the beginning of the contest last spring and took a prominent part in the election campaign. In congress his chief work has been as a member of the appropriations committee.

PALMER WANTS CAUCUS HEAD.
Burleson Says He Will Not Be Candidate for Place.

Washington, Feb. 25.—Representative A. Mitchell Palmer of Pennsylvania, democratic national committeeman from that state, is expected to be made chairman of the democratic caucus.

DEATH STRIDES FIELDS OF ICE

TWO MEMBERS OF AN ANTARCTIC EXPEDITION HAVE DIED.

SHIP LEAVES OTHERS OF PARTY

Dr. Dawson and Companions Fail to Reach the Boat and Will Winter There.

Sydney, Feb. 25.—Another was added to the list of Antarctic tragedies by the news received here today of the death of two members of the expedition commanded by Dr. Douglas Mawson. The party left Tasmania in 1911, accompanied by a large body of scientific men, to explore thoroughly the regions around the southern magnetic pole.

Once again the British army is affected by the loss of a brilliant officer, Lieut. E. E. S. Ninnis, of the famous Royal Fusiliers regiment. He was a close friend of Captain Lawrence Oates of the Inniskilling Dragoons, who perished while returning from the south pole with Scott.

Switzerland also has suffered a great loss by the death of Dr. Merz, a prominent scientist and sportsman. After winning the ski jumping championship in Switzerland in 1908, he offered his services to Dr. Mawson. Lieutenant Ninnis was the expert of the expedition of surveying and sledging. The wireless messages hitherto received from the Aurora do not state the cause of his death or that of Dr. Merz.

To Name Unknown Lands.
The expedition started out, not with any idea of rushing to the south pole, but with the intention of exploring and naming the unknown lands of the Antarctic and making numerous observations around the magnetic pole.

According to the wireless reports received from Dr. Mawson the principal objects of the expeditions were attained.

Unfortunately Dr. Mawson and six of his companions, after they had been picked up by the Aurora, undertook another expedition and were unable to rejoin the ship, which was compelled to leave them to spend another year in the Antarctic.

News Comes by Wireless.
Professor David, who was a member of Sir Ernest Shackleton's southern pole expedition, received the following wireless dispatch from Adelaide Land:

"Dr. Douglas Mawson and several of his men missed the Aurora, which had gone to fetch him, under the command of Capt. J. K. Davis. This happened owing to unfortunate circumstances."

"Lieutenant E. E. S. Ninnis, of the city of London regiment of Royal Fusiliers, and Dr. Merz, who were ski champions in Switzerland in 1908, are both dead. All the others are well."

"Dr. Mawson and six other members of his party probably will winter on Adelaide Land."

"Some very successful sledging expeditions were made during the sojourn of Dr. Mawson and his companions in the Antarctic."

The last previous message received here from the Aurora, February 17, said that all the members of the expedition were on board the vessel. It would appear, therefore, that Dr. Douglas Mawson, with some of his companions, must have landed and gone on an expedition from there to rejoin the Aurora before the ice compelled her to leave.

The expedition, headed by Dr. Mawson, set out from Australia in the latter part of 1911. It consisted of nearly fifty men, most of them graduates of the universities of Australia and New Zealand. It was financed by popular subscription to make a complete geographical and magnetic survey of the Antarctic region between Cape Adelle and Gaussberg, a distance of over 2,000 miles.

The expedition landed on Adelle Land, which is a barren tract of what has also been known as Wilkes Land, after the American explorer and the men there divided into three parties. From time to time there have come reports of the success of the explorers in the discovery of new islands and only recently after having been out of communication for several months.

REBEL ACTIVITY IS INCREASING

GOVERNMENT HAS NO HOPE FOR IMMEDIATE PEACE IN MEXICO.

NORTHERN PART ANTAGONISTIC

Zapatistas Will Not Be Quiet Unless They Are Given Places in Army With Assumed Ranks.

Mexico City, Feb. 25.—Hope for immediate peace in Mexico is slight. Rebel activity in the north has increased and the government's efforts to enter into arrangements with the Zapatistas appear to have failed.

Whether the rebels, whose center is the state of Coahuila, have increased numerically, is not known. Already communication with the frontier has been stopped, that region between Laredo and San Luis Potosi being practically isolated.

In the south the Zapatistas continue burning and ordering, and an attack on a military train between Ozuama and Mexico City leaves little doubt as to their attitude toward the new administration. The attack was of the ordinary ambush order. The train was stopped by a burned bridge, and the fighting continued for more than two hours.

Want to Be in Army.
One of the demands of the Zapatistas made today by a commission representing that faction of the rebels was that all the Zapatista officers be admitted to the regular army with corresponding rank, some having assumed the title of general. To this the government strongly objected.

The commissioners left to report to their chiefs and soon word came back that the Zapatistas considered the revolution still in progress.

The government has sent forces to the south toward Cuernavaca, along the line of the Central railway, a portion of which was destroyed by rebels and since rebuilt.

Reports from the state of Morelos indicate that the work of destruction during the last twenty-four hours has been more complete than is ordinarily undertaken by the rebels.

To offset the antagonism of the Zapatistas, however, the government believes there will be no difficulty in concluding arrangements for peace with John Andrew Almazan and Julio Realde, the two most prominent leaders in the state of Guerrero.

There much doubt felt that arrangements can be made by the government agents sent to El Paso to confer with representatives of Orozco's army.

Benjamin Argueta, Cheche Camacho, and others, who are being received that troops of the fourth and sixth brigades are enroute according to orders issued by the war department yesterday. These two brigades will go to Texas City for camp and when they arrive the entire second division of the army, which is the biggest of the three continental divisions, will be concentrated in Galveston and vicinity. This division has a theoretical strength of 18,000 men, but the actual strength is slightly in excess of 10,000 men. The first division will be mobilized in the neighborhood of Houston, according to information received here today.

Bringing Pontoon Bridge.
Leavenworth, Kan., Feb. 25.—Companies G, H and M, engineer corps, left Fort Leavenworth for Galveston tonight in obedience to orders from Washington last night. The companies, each containing 120 men, were under command of Major Lytle Brown.

Company M has pontoon equipment and is to bring a bridge a mile long may be constructed.

Passing Through Houston.
Houston, Tex., Feb. 25.—Almost a constant stream of troops and supplies are passing through Houston today en route for Galveston. No commands have been ordered en route at this point as yet, although steps have been taken to have the grounds in readiness in the section about Eureka, which is between five and six miles west from the court house and immediately between the Katy and Harriman line railway tracks.

Laredo, Tex., Feb. 25.—A message received here late tonight from Monterey, regarding the shooting of Emilio Madero near that place emphatically denies the report and says that everything is quiet there.

DISPOSITION OF TROOPS IS MADE

ENTIRE FIFTH BRIGADE WILL BE LOCATED ON GALVESTON ISLAND.

500 ROUNDS OF AMMUNITION

Fourth and Sixth Brigades, Cavalry and Artillery at Texas City. Soon to Be at Houston.

Galveston, Feb. 25.—With the arrival of Brigadier General Frederick A. Smith, commanding the fifth brigade, accompanied by Major F. D. Evans, brigade adjutant, definite information concerning the mobilization of troops at Galveston and Texas City became known.

According to General Smith, the entire fifth brigade, with company D, signal corps, company E, engineers, field hospital No. 1, and field bakery No. 2, together with headquarters of the second army division, will be located at Galveston, while the fourth and sixth brigades, the third cavalry and one-half of the fourth field artillery will be camped at Texas City.

General Smith visited the temporary camp grounds on arrival and expressed satisfaction at the site and arrangements that had been made.

Already about 300 soldiers are encamped at Fort Crockett and more than 1,000 are to arrive before morning. Those to arrive tonight are second and third battalions of seventh infantry from Fort Leavenworth; first battalion of nineteenth infantry. These three trains will arrive at 3 a. m., 4:30 and 7 a. m. tomorrow. Other trains are en route and will arrive at intervals during the day. By tomorrow night at least 3,000 soldiers will be mobilized here.

In addition to the warehouse space already leased by the government, Capt. L. D. Gasser, depot quartermaster, has secured a third warehouse on a pier of the Galveston water front, with approximately 500,000 square feet of floor space. This gives a total of nearly a million and a half square feet of warehouse room. These warehouses are being filled with commissary supplies, tents, camp equipment and clothing and forage for animals.

Advices were received this afternoon by Captain Gasser that Lieutenant Colonel G. McK. Williamson, quartermaster's corps, would arrive in a few days and assume charge under the direction of the commanding officer of the second division, Major General Carter.

Advices are being received that troops of the fourth and sixth brigades are enroute according to orders issued by the war department yesterday. IT IS EXAGGERATED RIO GRANDE REPORTS

No Americans Threatened, and Alba Heywood Denounces the Story of Monday Night as Tommy Rot.

YET COLQUITT SEES A DANGER

Border is Unprotected, Marauding Bands Steal Texas Property and There is Spirit of Unrest. He proposes to Act.

Brownsville, Feb. 25.—With the arrival of company C, Third Texas infantry, from Corpus Christi, the first of the state troops ordered here by Governor Colquitt Monday night is in camp. Another company of infantry and two troops of cavalry are expected during the night. Mayor A. B. Cole tonight was advised that company M of the Fourteenth United States cavalry left Laredo this afternoon for Brownsville.

United States Consul J. H. Johnson of Matamoros this afternoon wired Governor Colquitt and the department of state at Washington that foreigners have not been molested at Matamoros by military or civil authorities, nor have any attempts been made to extort money from Americans.

Injudicious Language.
He gave as the cause of Monday night's excitement here the use of injudicious language by persons in authority and augmented by others.

Major Esteban Ramos, commander of the Matamoros garrison, in an interview, stated absolutely that full protection would be afforded all foreigners. He said no demands are being made on any foreigners for any money. Dr. M. Barragan, mayor of Matamoros, today wired Governor Colquitt, protesting against exaggerated reports that were sent out, and calling attention to the pleasant relations between the people of Matamoros and Brownsville.

Not in Favor of Gomez.
A telegram received today by Major Esteban Ramos, commander of the garrison in Matamoros, stated that reports published in Mexico City from Monterey are to the effect that the Matamoros military commander is in favor of Dr. Emilio Vasquez Gomez for president, and that the followers of Gomez were extorting money from foreigners in Matamoros and especially from the Spanish consul; in fact, that the garrison in Matamoros is for Gomez.

Major Ramos in an interview with the Associated Press correspondent tonight most strenuously denied this report and says a great injury has been done him as it places him in a false light with the government at Mexico City. His movements have been entirely in support of Felix Diaz. Furthermore, there is no Spanish consul at Matamoros.

TEXAS GUARD RESPONDS.
Corpus Musketeers and Houston Rifles Go to Border.

Corpus Christi, Feb. 25.—Under command of Captain J. T. Stockton, the Corpus Christi Musketeers left for Brownsville this morning on a special train. At Robstown they were joined by the Houston Rifles, and both companies are expected to arrive in Brownsville by noon. The local company mustered fifty-six men this morning at daylight. The companies were ordered to Brownsville at midnight last night by Adjutant General Hutchings. The telegram was not received until late and officers of the company immediately began scouring the city for militiamen and by daylight had all the men rounded up. The moving of state troops to Brownsville has caused great excitement here, and Governor Colquitt has been advised that a company of rangers, including some of the best shots in the southwest, will volunteer for duty for Texas if they are needed.

SHEPPARD ASKS FOR TROOPS.
Says the Rio Grande Border Is Not Protected.

Washington, Feb. 25.—Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas today made representations to the state department about what he considers the unprotected condition of parts of the Texas-Mexican frontier. Senator Sheppard recently sent a telegram to the Texas county judges along the Rio Grande from El Paso to Brownsville and his statement to Secretary Knox today was based upon the replies.

They contended for the need of more troops in two extended stretches of territory, one of which is 300 miles between Brownsville and Laredo, and the other of almost as great length from Del Rio to El Paso. It was represented that there had been much looting along the upper region and in one case a Texas ranch fifty miles from the border had been raided in the last few days.

One thousand troops, the senator said, were required to protect the country. It was believed that not so many would be necessary along the lower Rio Grande, but it was represented there were many roving bands of Mexicans just across the river on the Mexican side from Cameron, Starr and Hidalgo counties, and it was feared some of them might cross over at any time. At Laredo, Eagle Pass and El Paso there was said to be a sufficient number of troops.

Regardless of War Department.
"At 3 o'clock I was called out of bed to read an Associated Press dispatch to the effect that the war department had ordered troops from Fort Sam Houston to Brownsville, with instructions not to permit the Texas National Guards to cross into Mexico, indicating a determination of the federal government to bring about a conflict of authority in such contingencies, whereas my telegram to Capt. Head showed that I had forbidden to cross into Mexico. I did not

Austin, Tex., Feb. 25.—Governor Colquitt today received a telegram from J. H. Johnson, consul at Matamoros, that indicates the first reports of conditions along the border at Brownsville were exaggerated.

Telegrams sent to Representative Householder from Brownsville, which he transmitted to the governor, also indicate the same.

The telegram from Johnson says: "Foreigners here have not been molested by military or civil authorities. No money has been extorted from Americans for any purpose. We have and are promised protection. Apparently quiet. Excitement caused by injudicious language by persons in authority and augmented by others. American consuls never desert their posts."

A telegram from Alba Heywood, one of the largest land owners in the Rio Grande country, to representative Householder is as follows:

"Please do what you can with his excellency to put a stop to this unprotected border tommyrot. The border is unprotected because it needs no protection; the relations and feelings between Americans and Mexicans on both sides of the river are perfectly friendly; sensation mongers and a few who would enjoy starting something, aside. The desire to sell papers is at the bottom of the whole matter. It is unjust, uncalled for and unprofitable."

ALBA HEYWOOD.
The Brownsville Chamber of Commerce sent the following: "There is great apprehension, but nothing has happened of a serious nature. However, the border is without protection for several hundred miles, and should trouble start damage might result. Such protection as can be given the people's interest without malice toward our neighbor would be proper. Our business interests demand conservative action and reason in any display of protection."

Statement by Colquitt.
Governor Colquitt, in reply to requests from New York papers asking for a statement of conditions on the Mexican border and his opinion as to whether the federal government is sufficiently exerting itself to protect Texas life and property along the Rio Grande, said:

"I first became involved in the border protection by a request from the president of the United States in a letter presented to me by Special Ambassador Casaus. At that time the Madero revolution was in progress. I did what was in my power to assist in the enforcement of the neutrality laws of the United States, using Texas rangers for this purpose. I have all along, until about two weeks ago, been of the opinion that intervention by the United States is unnecessary."

Mexicans Cross the River.
"During last autumn, however, and since, the revolutionists operating in the northern states of Mexico and along the Rio Grande were very troublesome. In some instances they abducted American citizens, carrying them into the interior of Mexico, demanding ransom. Frequently bands of Mexicans cross the river on marauding expeditions, stealing cattle and horses. I often implored the federal government and asked them to give me a statement of its plans and purposes for protecting the border so that I might supply any deficiency in such protection which in my judgment was necessary. I was met with flat refusal, and have never been informed as to the purposes of the United States government in this particular. I am in constant receipt of telegrams and letters from points on the border, from ranchmen, farmers and public officials expressing their apprehension on account of the unsettled condition in Mexico, and asking me for protection."

"The Texas border from El Paso to Brownsville is 563 miles. The nearest federal troops to Brownsville, are at San Antonio, a distance of 300 miles by rail. I have had a local guard on duty at Brownsville for more than a week. And the gravity of the situation is shown by telegraphic dispatches taking place between myself last night and the county judge and sheriff of Cameron county, and Captain Head, commander of the company of national guards at Brownsville, who called on me for protection. I telegraphed the messages received to the commander of the United States troops at San Antonio and was told by him that he would make no withdrawal orders from Washington. I informed him that I had sent four companies of Texas militia to Brownsville."

Regardless of War Department.
"At 3 o'clock I was called out of bed to read an Associated Press dispatch to the effect that the war department had ordered troops from Fort Sam Houston to Brownsville, with instructions not to permit the Texas National Guards to cross into Mexico, indicating a determination of the federal government to bring about a conflict of authority in such contingencies, whereas my telegram to Capt. municate with Washington last night before ordering Texas troops to the front because of my previous experience in setting no satisfactory answers from there. I propose to do my duty by the Texas people living along the border to the full limit of my ability and authority, regardless of any displeasure it may cause the war board at Washington.

"You ask me whether I will send Texas troops into Mexico if in my judgment such an action is rendered necessary because of the neglect of the United States government. I do not desire to bring about a conflict between this state and the government at Washington. However, events transpiring the past two weeks in the City of Mexico I believe may be rectified at any time along the border. I believe I understand the situation as it affects this state, and I know the spirit that actuated the despots of Mexico in the past. I am ready to protect Texas citizens and will not hesitate to impress on the Mexican mind that we here in Texas are not joking about it. I believe that if the United States had intervened two weeks ago the horrible things which have been done in the City of Mexico since would not have occurred. Had a friendly intervention been made two weeks ago I do not believe that it would have been necessary to send troops at all."

TO DEMAND BORDER PATROL.

Texas Senators Will Go Before Committee Today.

Washington, Feb. 25.—A demand upon the government for adequate troops to protect El Paso and other border points will be made tomorrow, either through the senate foreign affairs committee or upon the floor of the senate by senators from Texas and New Mexico. Many telegrams from city and state officials, received by Senators Sheppard of Texas and Fall and Catron of New Mexico, resulted in their determination to ask the senate to demand an explanation from the war department for the recent orders withdrawing troops from the border.

The protests are directed at the concentration of troops at Galveston. It is claimed this leaves unprotected a long stretch of country where the Mexican forces are strongest. Senator Sheppard of Texas and Catron of New Mexico, who are expected to go before the foreign relations committee tomorrow morning and ask that body to take up the matter with the war department.

Senator Fall said if the foreign relations committee does not act at once, he will present a resolution in the senate calling upon the secretary of war for a full statement.

The most vigorous protests today came as the result of the withdrawal of artillery from El Paso. A telegram received by Senator Sheppard tonight from C. E. Kelly, mayor of El Paso, said in part:

"It is impossible for us to conceive of any reason for what is being done and it is exposing our people to an unnecessary hazard. Cannot something be done to prevent further movement of troops from here. A large part of the artillery was sent from here this morning. What relief may we expect? Please communicate with the war department and ascertain its purposes, as we must organize for protection and have state troops sent here, if it is the purpose of the government not to place here immediately an adequate number of federal soldiers."

EXILES RETURNING HOME.

Trains Into Mexico Carry Many Passengers.

El Paso, Feb. 25.—Exiles are beginning to return home again. Fifty Mexican political refugees boarded a special train here tonight, the brakesman crying, "Vámonos for Mexico City."

Most of the passengers have been in the United States during the revolt against Madero, many of them being prominent business and professional men.

Col. David de la Fuente, chief of staff of Salazar's rebels and named as minister of communications in Huerta's provisional cabinet, was a passenger. He said the train would be met at Ahumada, between Juarez and Chihuahua City by General Pascual Orozco Jr., the missing chief of the northern revolution.

The passengers aboard cheered as the train left Juarez. "Viva la Patria!" they cried, rather than "vivas" for any political leader. On three troop trains and one baggage train the Twenty-second infantry is preparing to leave Fort Bliss for Galveston. The baggage train will depart early tomorrow morning. The movement will leave no infantry at the local post. One cavalry regiment remains on border patrol.

GARIBALDI HEARS NEWS.

He Regrets Death of Madero, Which He Says Is a Crime.

New York, Feb. 25.—General Giuseppe Garibaldi, grandson of the Italian liberator and soldier of fortune, who was one of the leaders of the Madero revolution in Mexico, arrived today aboard the steamer Kron Prinzessin Cecilie. General Garibaldi was deeply affected by the news of the death of Madero.

"I consider the killing of Madero as one of the blackest crimes in history," he said. "At present I do not care to say anything further."

Garibaldi said he did not expect to go to Mexico. It was reported that he was to go upon his return to Rome from active service with the Greek army in the Balkan war, that he would return to Mexico, but the death of Madero, of which he received reports at sea, caused him to change his plans.

CALLS FOR FEDERAL HELP.

Americans Want Protection for Water Supply.

Los Angeles, Feb. 25.—Wm. Holabird, receiver for the California Development company, which controls the Imperial Valley system, telegraphed to Washington today asking that troops be sent to the Lower California border, between Yuma, Ariz., and Calexico, to protect the head gates and canals on which 30,000 American ranchers are dependent for their water supply.

Holabird has sent a similar request to the governor of Lower California.

With Mexican troops on one side of the border and the other, there could be no repetition of rebel raids in Lower California, which endangered the irrigation system during 1911.

GONZALES BEFORE A COURT.

Military Trial Is Being Held on His Case.

El Paso, Feb. 25.—Abram Gonzales, deposed governor of Chihuahua state, is being tried by a court martial. He is charged with a revolutionary plot in which it is alleged an attempt was to have been made to dynamite the barracks at Chihuahua City, where hundreds of federal regular soldiers are quartered. He was arrested shortly after the sudden turn of affairs at Mexico City, which resulted in Madero's downfall. His trial was begun today. If convicted, his execution is expected.

The federal volunteers or ex-insurrecto troops of Madero's revolt two years ago appear to be resigned as to accepting the Huerta government without contest, although declining further service under arms. The irregular soldiers of Juarez garrison today were offered a chance to join the regular army or give up their arms and return to their homes. Almost to a man they stacked their arms. In a speech to the men, Colonel Manuel Landa explained the usefulness of the ex-insurrecto corps had passed.

Aside from the uprising of the volunteer garrison at Suaz, which resulted yesterday in the execution of ninety-five mutineers, the irregular troops are quiet in other parts of the state.

The object lesson of the Suaz slaughter is considered as responsible for the docile attitude of the volunteers at Juarez and Chihuahua City, a few of the corps are reported to have escaped, with their arms.

TO RESTORE DIAZ PICTURES.

Mexico City, Feb. 25.—Revival of the Diaz influence in Mexico is indicated by an order issued by Provisional President Huerta today that all portraits of former President Porfirio Diaz be restored to places in public buildings from which Madero removed them. Several large pictures of the former dictator were replaced in the national palace.

The new cabinet ministers, anticipating the order, had ordered pictures of Porfirio Diaz hung on the walls of their various departments.

IT WILL BE NO BOY'S JOB

British Press Says United States Does Well to Go Slow in Intervention.

London, Feb. 25.—The London newspapers continue to take a lively interest in the Mexican situation. In an editorial this morning the Standard says:

"Perhaps President Taft is right in deciding on non-intervention in Mexico, but it seems a pity that Felix Diaz and his confederates do not commit some breach of international law, which would give a civilized power an excuse to lay strong hands upon them."

The Daily Mail publishes a telegram signed by President Huerta giving an official account of the death of Madero and Suarez, and asking that judgment on the affair be suspended until after the investigation is completed.

The Daily Mail, in an editorial, also comments on the difficulties facing the United States. It says the very idea of intervention appalls the American government. If a quarter of a million British troops were two years conquering South Africa at a cost of one billions dollars, the Daily Mail declares, the American troops would find the subjugation of Mexico a task of supreme difficulty. Recalling the easier and more simple task of the United States in 1846 and Napoleon's task in 1861, the Daily Mail adds:

"That grim experience is not forgotten in Washington and Mr. Taft and Mr. Wilson may well hesitate. Yet no civilized nation can consent indefinitely to tolerate anarchy at its door and the pressure upon them may be too great to resist. If so the war they will have to face is one compared with which the Iber conflict would be child's play."

FOUND DEAD IN BATHROOM.

Woman Says She May Have Killed Her Husband.

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 25.—"I don't think I killed my husband. If I did it was God's work," sobbed Mrs. J. A. Applebaum at the coroner's inquest late today over the body of J. A. Applebaum, a Chicago traveling man, who was shot and killed this morning in a local hotel.

A few minutes later the woman was led to jail at the order of the coroner's jury, to be held pending an investigation of the tragedy by the county grand jury.

After a series of domestic difficulties and an unsuccessful attempt at suicide by Mrs. Applebaum three days ago, the Chicago traveling man was found dead in the bathroom of his apartment in a local hotel. Three bullet wounds from a 25-caliber revolver, one in the right arm and two in the chest, caused death.

Theories of murder and suicide have been advanced, combining to form a mystery which was deepened with the examination of witnesses at the inquest this afternoon.

Mrs. Applebaum, hysterical and incoherent at the inquest, offered no solution to the mystery. Declaring that her husband was cruel and abusive, she told of a quarrel with him last night brought about by an alleged unsuccessful attempt on his part to wrest from her a diamond necklace and diamond earrings.

"Later he pulled me on the bed," she said. "He pulled a pistol, showed it against my breast and then drew out his watch."

"It's 2 o'clock now," he said; 'I'll give you just five minutes more to live.'"

To repeated interrogations, the woman replied:

"That is all I remember; I don't believe I shot him."

Other persons in the house testified to hearing the quarrel and the shots.

FOR FUSION AGAINST TAMMANY.

New York, Feb. 25.—Theodore Roosevelt made public a letter this afternoon in which he indorses the idea of fusion against Tammany Hall in the municipal elections next fall. At the same time he added:

"I am utterly opposed to making a deal with any party or organization to divide the spoils of office."

The letter is addressed to the president of the "Hudson Progressive Club."

Clears the Docket.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—Three indictments under the Sherman law against Chicago packers were dismissed here today in the federal court by order of Attorney General Wickham. Another indictment obtained in 1905 also was dismissed, thus clearing the calendar of charges against the packers.

No Salary Under $800.

Washington, Feb. 25.—That a man cannot live on $720 a year and "keep up appearances" was the decision of the senate tonight when it overturned its postoffice committee, voted out all $720 salaries for postal clerks and mail carriers and accepted the $800 minimum salary provision of the house.

Oppose Daughters Having Alamo.

Austin, Feb. 25.—The senate committee on public buildings and grounds reported adversely the house bill turning the control of the Alamo over to the Daughters of the Republic, with favorable minority report.

DOCTORS TO SAY IF HOUSE IS SAFE

LEGISLATURE WILL DECIDE TODAY WHETHER TO ADJOURN UNTIL APRIL.

RIDGELL SAYS HE IS SCARED

Kirby Urges the Resolution and Allison Speaks for Those Who Oppose It.

Austin, Tex., Feb. 25.—A joint committee of five members from each house met at 5 o'clock and interrogated several doctors in regard to the advisability of adjourning the legislature on account of meningitis until warm weather. No decision was reached. The doctors were asked to submit a written opinion Wednesday morning, and this opinion will be used as a basis for the committee report.

Circulars from the Beaumont Chamber of Commerce, with editorials from the Beaumont Enterprise, Waco News and Dallas-Galveston News, advocating the passage of the Kirby merger bill over the governor's veto, were distributed this morning to members of both houses.

The meningitis question again held the deliberations of the house to the exclusion of all other business to a late hour today.

A resolution by Kirby for adjournment until Monday, April 7, precipitated the debate. Kirby spoke at length and urged upon the members to consider the dangers they may bring upon themselves and possible deaths of other members if they enforce attendance upon the house. This question was debated by Lewelling, Tarver, Allison, Speaker Terrell, who took the floor, and Ridgell.

The speaker took no positive stand on the immediate question other than to quote the health officer Dr. Steiner, as saying the capitol is not in a dangerous condition and that the legislature might well continue in its sessions. The gist of his argument was for the appointment of a joint committee of the house and senate to consider the meningitis question and report back to both bodies today. He also urged upon the house not to adjourn without making necessary preparations for adjustment and clearing up unfinished business.

Allison Opposes Resolution.

Allison's speech represented the sentiment of those who are opposed to any sort of cessation of work. He called the attention of members to the fact that nearly forty members of the legislature remained in Austin and were at the capitol daily during the recent recess, and that no case of meningitis has developed from this. He urged that all measures possible for rendering the house of representatives sanitary and free of germs have been taken, and expressed it as his belief that if the legislature should adjourn it would be through foolish alarm.

Ridgell caused much amusement when he announced that he was the first man to admit that he was scared. Other speakers had based their views upon the supposed injustice to the members of the legislature who favored adjournment.

Ridgell Is Scared.

He said in part: "I have my family here and many other members have theirs. When I go home at night it is with fear which I feel no embarrassment in admitting. I don't know whether my association with my immediate family will be the result of fear as I am personally concerned. I can't shake this fear off. Then, as my losing one or more of them, I feel it no disgrace to retreat when one is alarmed."

The house adopted the suggestion of the speaker and the following members were appointed for the house: Mangum, Rogers, Allison, Kirby and Kennedy.

Following this action the senate appointed a committee consisting of members Vaughan, Carter, Breisford, Wilkey and Lattimore to confer with the house committee. The house committee consists of members who are known to favor an adjournment. In the senate the members on the committee said that they would follow the wishes of the house in the matter.

The house recessed after considering Dodson's bill to give county attorneys extra compensation not to exceed $500 for performing services not now prescribed in the revised statutes.

Working under suspended rules.

The house continued yesterday's calendar and passed five bills to engrossment and killed one. A message from the governor relating to the reappointing of the body of Mrs. Josiah Troutman, designer of the Texas flag, and the proposed memorial to her was also received and heard.

The bills engrossed were bill by Humphrey and others providing salary for county attorneys for police rendering aid to assessors and collectors. By Walker, permitting regular bonding companies to furnish bond for state and county officials; by Byrne and others, railroad hospital bill; by Hornby, instructing state health department to furnish information concerning contagious diseases by means of lecture and publication and permitting railroads to furnish free transportation to lecturers; by Haney and Mangum, providing more sanitary and healthful conditions in hotels.

The Parks bill providing for local option in regard to Sunday amusements was killed.

The house adjourned to 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

In the Senate.

After squabbling over the congressional redistricting bill during the morning session the senate passed it to engrossment immediately after the noon recess.

The districts as now provided are essentially the same as laid out by the senate in committee as a whole.

Embodying an extensive plan for constructing and maintaining roads, the McGreggor trunk roads bill was offered by McGreggor as a substitute and the entire afternoon devoted to the discussion of the substitute. The bill was still before the house when it adjourned.

In the senate this morning the action by which the senate late yesterday evening adopted a resolution condemning the death of Madero and Suarez and practically declaring for intervention, though not in express terms, was rescinded and the resolution sent back to the committee on federal relations.

It is understood that an effort will be made to reinsert the paragraphs which declare directly for intervention.

In the senate bills were introduced to establish a Terrell state normal, appropriating $100,000 for it on condition that the citizens of Terrell give $20,000 and twenty acres of land.

A bill prohibiting a railroad from abandoning any part of its track after it is constructed and establishing a standard of weights and measures, also a bill making it unlawful to employ any man not to join a labor union.

TWO NEGROES LYNCHED.

Harrison County Makes Horse Stealing Capital Offense.

Marshall, Tex., Feb. 25.—Two negroes were lynched in this (Harrison) county last night.

Near Elysian Fields a negro named Anderson was hanged. The reasons for the hanging are not yet known.

Near Karnack Robert Perry, charged with horse stealing, was shot to death. Another negro, George Redden, who was also charged with horse stealing, was wounded in the leg by the men who killed Perry.

Vassar Girls Will Not March.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Feb. 25.—Vassar girls have abandoned the idea of sending a delegation to Washington to take part in the suffrage parade on March 3. A number of women suffrage enthusiasts in the college had proposed their going to the capital in a body, but they learned that Dr. James M. Taylor, the president of the college, was so strongly opposed to this that they decided not to even ask permission.

Is Admitted to Bail.

Epsom, England, Feb. 25.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the suffragette leader, appeared in court here today charged with inciting others to place feloniously and maliciously explosive substances with intent to damage Chancellor Lloyd-George's country house.

She was admitted to bail of $2,500, promising to refrain from inciting and not to attend public meetings while the case is in progress. The only evidence taken today was that in relation to her arrest.

Filibuster Is Effective.

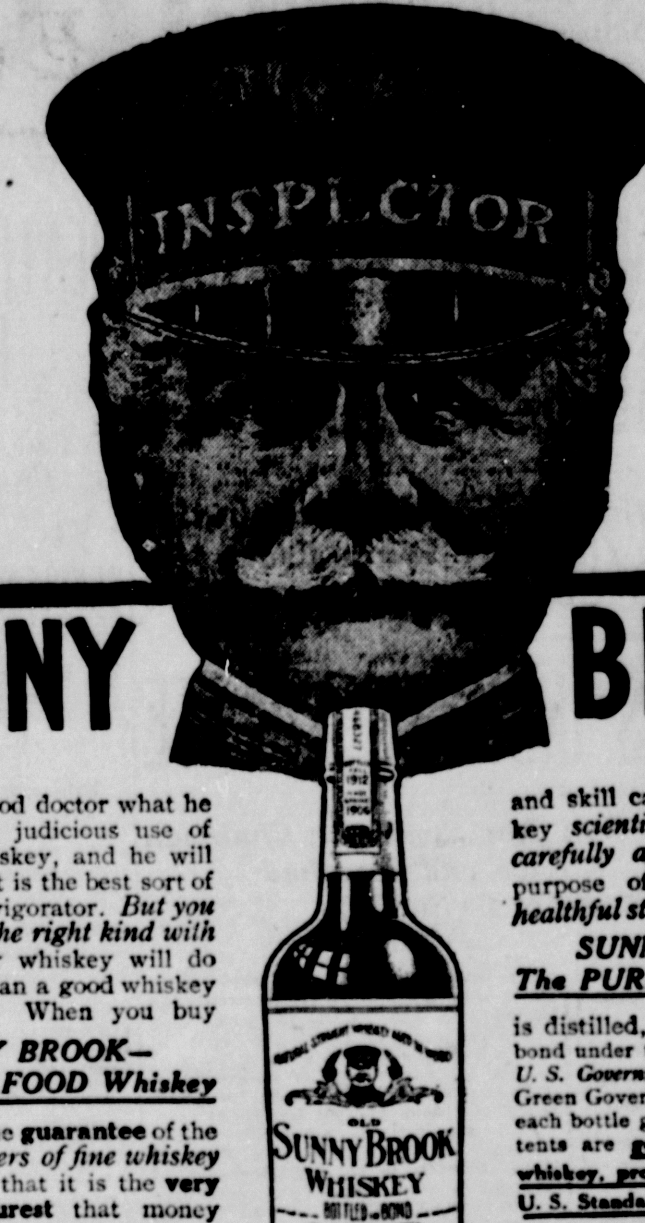

Washington, Feb. 25.—A filibuster led by Senators Guggenheim of Colorado and Gronna of North Dakota, which lasted until the senate adjourned at 11:30 tonight, prevented action on the bill to create a new department of labor.

Judge John Orr, Reno, has resigned.

He is tired of divorce cases.

MISMANAGED ESTATES

When you select an individual as your Executor your Estate may be mismanaged. There are a large number of instances of Estates being looted and mismanaged by individuals. THERE ARE NO INSTANCES WHERE A TRUST COMPANY HAS BEEN NAMED AS EXECUTOR. An individual often yields to temptation. If the money is lost, that loss falls upon your Estate. You can avoid these risks by appointing us as your Executor. Back of your Estate is a capital of $500,000, more than any individual you can probably name as Executor. May we talk this matter over with you? The charges are no more for our experienced, trained, responsible, management than it costs for the inexperienced, untrained and irresponsible management of an individual.

The Theatres

Jules Falk and Arthur Fischer.
A press agent's notice says:
"No one at all acquainted with musical conditions needs any reminder of the high artistic position held by Jules Falk among the ablest living virtuosi; his engagements with the country's most prominent musical organizations attesting beyond question the esteem in which he is held. Falk's reputation as a violinist of high quality and rank was first established by his successful career in the prominent musical centers of the old world and it was the recognition accorded him and his art in Berlin, Paris, Vienna and London that first commanded the attention of musical circles here. Since then his career has been a series of triumphs.
In Knoxville, Tenn., he appeared four times within five days, and the great audience of the summer school of the south, receiving an ovation rarely accorded any artist. Mr. Fischer, who is Mr. Falk's co-partner on the program, is a pianist of no mean ability and his playing of the sonata with Mr. Falk shows him to be a pianist of big caliber. Mr. Malcolm Maynier is the accompanied for Mr. Falk. The recital takes place at the Auditorium tonight."

"A Modern Eve."
A press agent's notice says:
"When 'A Modern Eve,' the season's most popular musical success, is presented at the Auditorium Friday night February 28 for one night, theatrical circles will see the most perfectly trained chorus of the year. During two hundred and fifty performances of 'A Modern Eve' in Chicago, with only one or two exceptions, the clever aggregation of girls have been a feature since the opening night. All of the song numbers have been taken advantage of
for the display of the beauty chorus.
There are many song hits to be heard in 'A Modern Eve,' among them being 'Good-bye Everybody,' 'You're Such a Lonesome Moon Tonight,' 'Rita, My Margaret,' 'Hello, Sweetheart,' 'Is the Girl You Married Still the Girl You
Love?' and 'Every Day is Christmas
When You're Married.' The principal in the cast include: Frank Deshon, Frederic Santley, William Kent, Carl

Ruth Peebles and George Drew Mendum."

JEAN SHERWOOD MOTHERS ARE FURTHERING WORK

Although the regular monthly meeting does not occur until Tuesday, the committees appointed by Mrs. J. B.
Stanard, president of the club, are arranging the details for the art lectures of Mrs. J. B. Sherwood, who will April.

MISS CARLTON AND MEEK TO BE BRIDGE MONEYS

As one of the parting pleasures for the Misses Carlton of Tyler and Meek of Houston, whose visit to Mrs.
Edwin Jurney is about at an end, Mrs.
Frank Traub gathered guests for a bridge matinee this afternoon. This will be in the parlors of Mrs. B. C.
Garland on North Fourth.

THE GIRLS MISSIONARY RAISES THEIR PLEDGE

When it was planned that the Dea-coness Home should have a dining room shower, the girls of the Junior Missionary society of the Austin Avenue church pledged to give the fresh shades. Accordingly, with the president, Miss Mildred Lastinger, there was poured a George Washington tea.
And the pledge was redeemed, for the coin plate showed sufficient with which to make the purchase. In addition, these young girls afforded their friends a very cozy little tea drinking. The most of the house party received in colonial gown. Impromptu music was given and a social added to the tea flavor.

RECEPTION AND SHOWER AT THE DEACONESS HOME

After postponement on account of weather, the Deaconess Home on Franklin street will be opened this afternoon for all friends who feel sufficient interest to call and leave a coin, also to inspect the interior of the home for the working girls. While under the auspices of the Methodist church, the home is absolutely non-sectarian, therefore it deserves the support of women other than those from the several local Methodist churches who direct this institution.
A number of women have made personal donations towards a shower for the dining room. These will be installed, and the casual caller is requested to leave a coin for more general work. Mrs. W. J. Wiley as president of the association, with Miss Ethel Jackson, deaconess at the home, together with representatives of the board, will receive between the hours of 4 and 6 o'clock.

BAYLOR ENGLISH CLASS ATTENDS ART LECTURE

Prominent in the audience for Miss Friend's art matinee on Saturday afternoon was the class of English of the University of Baylor. Young men were present, all with note books, and interest divided between the words and the pictures of the artist.
One of the chaperones insists that the girls are planted with these students which will find the fruit in actual seeing the originals of these Twelve World Pictures. Many were the questions asked after the lecture, questions which showed an intelligent interest.
This demonstrates the cultural effect which art and pictures have upon the impressionable mind. And yet there are mothers who will do not the slightest for their children in this respect.
They will permit them to attend the moving picture show at any time without even inquiring the subject. The real art inquiring which is a joy not only at the moment but in viewing art magazines, reading notes in current literature, is ignored. This is reminded,
in order that the coming of the art,
the piano, and the dramatic artists within this springtime may not be passed by as regards the opportunity of the mother to impart this cultural impulse into the minds and the hearts of her children.

NO FLOWERS AT FUNERALS SEEMS NOW THE CRY

At first the action of the Cincinnati church which places a ban upon flowers at funerals seems beyond the pale of our sympathy. The action taken by this congregation announces that no funeral to which flowers have been sent will be permitted in the church. The church claims that there is only the beginning for a national crusade, and pleads as the cause that the floral extravagance has been one of the causes of high living. Be that as it may, this is not the time to indulge all the theories, scientific and social, which have been advanced as the root of our high living evil. But, after we set aside the shock to our sentiment, perhaps there is something praiseworthy in the action taken by this church.

Applied Locally.

The estimate has been made that,
at a funeral in this city, where the deceased is popular, the amount spent for floral pieces reaches at least one thousand dollars. Who reaps the benefit? The city florist. Who spends this thousand dollars? Friends of the deceased. How long do the flowers survive? Perhaps a day. Does not this seem an enormous sum for the results of gratifying sentiment alone?

A Substitute Suggested.

The world is so callous, and we Americans especially are so vulnerable to the charge of being saturated with commercialism, that the plea is made, let us cultivate all the sentiment which we can. This is appealing. But, cannot this sentiment be cultivated through some other channel? Another argues that it is such a comforting feeling to see the last of our beloved dead under the mound of beauty and fragrance. This is true.

But, why not the family take the preparation of a beautiful floral pall for the grave? Cannot this be made just as beautiful and just as soothing to the eye? We think so. And this relieves the friends from the expense of elaborate floral pieces. But some say not necessarily the elaborate and the costly piece, but just the cluster, perhaps the flowers from the home garden. This is assuredly all right, but how many will be content to do this simple act? Not many.
Too many are so apt to follow in the lead of the more fortunate in wealth. So, it should be no flowers at all. Let the family, according to the means, order this pall, and let it be placed over the new man's grave.
But, how then, can the friends manifest their sympathy, you ask? In this way, reply:

The flowers come when one is in deepest distress. Friends receive announcement. The cards are received, and many times the family does not know to which piece each card belongs.
When the grief is less poignant, the acknowledgment is made. In the meantime the flowers are hopelessly withered. How much more fresh flowers sent to the mourning home from time to time, in sweet remembrance of the friends detained in that home of grief.
Or, why not the personal note of con-fort, a day or two later, when one is sufficiently collected to read? Is not this sympathy? Is not this something which appeals to the distressed mind? We think so. When the heart prompts, there is always the way to show sympathy so that it will be appreciated.

The Church Sustained.

So really this church is taking the correct stand in refusing to have the flowers accompany the body for the funeral service. With the present custom of wedding gift, the graduation present, floral tributes, the bride-dresses, the conferees, the present, stock surprises, showers for all ocasions, the woman with the moderate purse is really tempted to go beyond her means. The time has certainly come to restrict this continuous giving. There never comes the time when we should not show this to our friends both in their sorrow and in their joy.
But, study to follow the plan of simple bestowal.

SOME HINTS ARE GIVEN FOR HEARING PROGRAMS

One of the interested listeners to the Godowsky recital telephones an appealing request that something be said in advance of the coming of Edward Baxter Perry, this afternoon, to the Waco audience, henceforth observe more of the etiquette of the audience hall. This woman who appeals is an intelligent patron of advanced artists both in New York city and abroad.
She feels that we here at home are lacking in those states which put the performer into sympathy with his listeners. At the Godowsky recital there was manifest annoyance upon the part of the great pianist by being interrupted between the movements of the piano. Know that a sonata is composed along prescribed lines, a slow movement, a medium and a rapid; it is etiquette for the audience to remain perfectly silent during the slight pause which marks the transition from one movement to another. Yet the Waco audience disturbed by vociferous applause, to the evident annoyance of Godowsky. After this, in order to avoid a second outbreak, he intoned a prolonged note into his next movement.

Another annoyance both to performer and to the audience was the carelessness with which those who attended handled the program folders.
This may seem a trifle yet it is an irritant to one who is lost in listening or to the performer whose soul is buried in his rendition. One rustle of paper may not be much, but several hundred rustles amount to confusion and distraction.

Still another annoyance is the in-attention to noise with the seats. Waco patrons simply must get accustomed to standing without until a number is rendered. They must not be so provincial as to demand entrance while selection is being rendered.

And lastly, only the most extreme cause should take one from the audience room until the program is closed. If the performer, the performer, closed. On the other side the one who withdraws and gives a general confusion. We must learn to restrain our selves. Even if we do not get the best seats in the street car, we should not show that we are so selfish as to have no thought except for self and self's comfort.

This is all said in order to improve the tone of a Waco audience who hears one of the fine art programs.
It is said, too, in advance of the appearance of Edward Baxter Perry, the blind pianist. The loss of sight renders the other senses peculiarly keen.
If Godowsky was annoyed, how much more will Perry be. He cannot see the cause of annoyance. He cannot look into the faces of his audience to determine what creates the confusion.
Let us then be not only observers of the etiquette of the audience hall, but considerate of the blind.

So, be on time for every program.
Take seat with the least possible noise. Examine the program to see where applause is timely, be careful to suppress the noise from the program folder, keep seat until the very last note sounds. Do all this, and Edward Baxter Perry, also those who come after him, will sound the praise of Waco as a cultured community.

Society Notes.

Mrs. T. A. Price, of Fort Worth, the president of the J. R. Ferrell, was an interested visitor to the Shakespere club on Monday. This interest was due largely to the scene of the play under discussion, being Venice, from which Mrs. Price is so recently returned.

Remember, it is quite chicken etiqquette for the head of the neighbor's fowl to go into the pot if the aforesaid fowl has scratched up every seed from the flower bed.

Wonder if there is any one spot about your home yard which a little attention could make more beautiful.
Go out and take a look.

Waco will have several representatives at the great convocation in Washington next week. These are Judge and Mrs. S. R. Scott, the Misses May-deed Caulfield and Celia Moore, to say nothing of the several girls there at school, the Misses Laurine Gay, Lucille Hill and Marian Duncan.

Now that society is upon the threshold of outdoor life, why is it that the women do not take more to athletics?
Tennis out at Cameron park, golf at the Huaco club, horseback canter,

PAVING OF WASHINGTON

Property Owners Did Not Go Before Commission, as They Have Been Allowed More Time.

Washington street property owners not in favor of the laying of permanent paving on this street, who were expected to appear before the city commission yesterday morning, and make formal protest against the passage of such an ordinance, failed to put in an appearance during the Tuesday session.

Announcement that a delegation would probably be on hand, however, had the effect of drawing discussion from the members of the commission.
Mr. Gorman stated that he did not see how a great city could be built here on gravel streets—that it is absolutely necessary for the future of the community that as much permanent paving as possible be laid, especially on the principal streets of the city.

It was then suggested that when a man has once signed a petition for the laying of paving, his name cannot be withdrawn after the commissioners have acted upon it. Mr. Littlefield, however, said he did not think it would be the policy of the commission to oppose the wishes of a property owner, should he change his mind before the city has actually spent money or caused preparations to be made for the paving of a street.

E. W. Blinn, a resident of North Fifth street, sent a communication to the commission asking as to the probable cost of laying certain classes of paving on North Fifth and asking that the ordinance for the paving of this street be not passed as yet.
The communication was received and filed.

The date of the sale of the recent bond issue was made March 18.
The Washington street property owners who are opposed to the paving of that street, are now circulating the counter petition and it was stated yesterday afternoon that enough signatures have been obtained to show that the petition favoring the paving will not have a majority by a thousand feet. When asked why they did not appear before the commission yesterday morning as they intended, it was stated that they had conferred with city authorities and were assured that the paving petition would not be acted on at once, which would allow them time to get up the counter petition, and they did not appear, but the announcement of opposition had had the desired effect of delaying the matter.

are quarried in blocks out of solid rock and the blocks cased for shipment.

BRYAN—NOT SOUSA.

Mr. Bryan as an orator was vividly described by George Stevens, who saw him address ten thousand people at Washington in his first election contest, and was greatly impressed by his dramatic gifts. "For a moment the square, black figure stood absolutely still," says Mr. Stevens. "Then slowly he reached forth the hand, like St. Paul in the Bible. The din went on unabated. Still very slowly he raised an arm above the head and made passes—two, three—in each direction of the crowd. Gradually silence crept over the mass of heads, and then the orator opened his lips. In a voice low but plain, hoarse but very rich, he began. Rain came on and an umbrella held over his head was blown inside out. But the orator crammed a broad felt hat on to his head, turned up his coat collar with a sturdy gesture, and then spread out his arms to his hearers. Once more they cracked their throats with applause."—London Chronicle.

COLQUITT FINDS A WAY.

Few persons, especially in this part of the nation, will be inclined to criticize Governor Colquitt for taking matters in his own hands in respect to the turbulence of developments along the Mexican border. Indeed, the more apparent it becomes that the executive of this State is compelled to provide protection for its citizens against the abuses of the lawless of another nation, a duty owed, above all else, by the federal government, the less radical seems his declaration that "if a single Texan is harmed" in Matamoros the life of the Mexican commandante at that place "will be demanded as the forfeit." We doubt, however, if the governor would consider sending State troops into Mexico regardless of how serious became the situation immediately across the border—even so serious as to result in loss of life among citizens of this State. There is no question in Mr. Colquitt's mind or in the mind of any Texan that he is positively forbidden by the laws of this nation from interfering directly in the troubles in Mexico, and that an invasion by Texas authority of the neighbor territory would amount to a violation of our neutrality laws that would result in federal prosecution for every man participating. So the report that "the governor stated that the first authentic news he hears of a Texan being harmed he will order Texas troops to cross the border and give the Mexicans a lesson they will never forget," need, we think, cause no anxiety in this State, and the women of the families of Texas guardsmen will not worry prematurely!

But the governor found a way, nevertheless, and we heartily commend him for finding it. By his ordering Texas soldiers to Brownsville the war department was finally aroused from its lethargy as regards protection of the nation's Texas's, frontier from depredations by Mexican highwaymen "enlisted" under any leader of the hour who may spring up in opposition to whatever government may happen to be current in Mexico City. To go further, we doubt if there would not be popular approval of the executive's action if the murdering of Texans across the border impelled him to throw State troops into the "friendly" nation. The fact is that the people of the United States are thoroughly dissatisfied with the injury to American life and property Mexico has perpetrated, without interference, thus far.

The significant fact in the governor's interchange of information and "warnings" with Washington and Fort Sam Houston Monday night is this: The commander of the department of Texas advised the governor he was without authority to send troops to the border, as no order to that effect had come from Washington, and it developed he had heretofore asked Washington to take such action. The governor then hurried Texas troops to the point nearest the Matamoros disturbance, whereupon Maj. Gen. Wood in Washington ordered the Texas commander to detail government troops to Brownsville. We must conclude that what Washington would not do for the protection of the border it was in great haste to do for no other reason than to "check" possible advances by the national guard. That is neither the spirit nor the best policy that should move the war department to give attention to dangers threatening the citizenship of the nation and a state.

Mr. Colquitt's several requests to Washington did not avail. His own action—and very salutary and sensible action it was—got immediate results. If quiet now is maintained on the border it will not be because of any action Washington may have taken in line with its duty.

THE COLLINS BILL.

The employees' compensation bill by Senator Collins of Beaumont, has been favorably reported by the senate committee on labor and set as a special order, which gives it precedence over all other pending business. It proposes to create a "Texas Employees' Insurance Association," to be financed on the mutual plan by the industrial employers of the State, also an "Industrial Accident Board" of three members, to be appointed by the governor, whose business it shall be to adjust all claims arising under the act and to hear all disputes.

All awards for accident or death damages shall be paid out of the insurance funds contributed by those industrial employers who elect to enter the association. It requires at least 50 employers working at least 2,000 men to secure an insurance permit from the State. Employers are not compelled to avail themselves of the act, and the employees of those who do not will have, of course, the same recourse to the courts that they now have. Under the present bill the employees will find it easier to make a case, however, for the reason that the bill makes it no defense that the injured man was negligent, or that his hurt was occasioned by the negligence of a fellow employee, or that the employee assumed the risk incident to his employment.

The bill provides that in case of death of an employee from injuries his beneficiaries shall be paid an amount equal to 60 per cent of his average weekly wage—not to fall below $7 nor go above $15—for a period of 364 weeks.

In case of total disability the employee is to be paid on the same basis for a period not to exceed 400 weeks. In case of partial disability he is to be paid a weekly sum equal to 60 per cent of the difference between present and former earnings for a period not to exceed 300 weeks.

Extra compensation covering a period of 100 weeks is provided in the event of the loss of one or two limbs or the virtual destruction of eyesight. The industrial accident board is to be composed of one employer, one industrial worker and a competent lawyer, who shall be the attorney of the board. The members shall receive $2,500 a year each and the chairman $3,000. A secretary at $2,000 and $5,000 annually for proper expenses are allowed the board. Inspection of the plants and premises of subscribers is included.

RECKLESS DRIVING.

The attention of the police who have been detailed to trap speeders on Austin avenue is still most needed at the Fifth street corner, rather than in the residence neighborhood to the west where traffic is light and pedestrians comparatively few. Motorcyclists especially are crossing the busy junctions of Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Seventh streets with reckless disregard for the safety of scores of pedestrians. Many motor cars and horse-drawn vehicles are crossing these corners at a speed that violates the traffic ordinance and imperils life and limb, and particularly do young men and women who drive motor cars need taking in hand. Their performances are graceful, but dangerous. Let the police get the speeders west of Eighth street if they desire, but not at the cost of neglecting safety regulations in the traffic district.

CONSOLIDATION PLANS.

If friends of the Katy merger bill who opposed the full crew bill that was defeated in the house are willing to join with friends of the latter measure in an attempt to revive house consideration of it, in order that the more important consolidation proposal may be passed over the governor's veto by a coalition of votes, we see no objection to the plan. To be sure, the railroad were hostile to the full crew bill, its defeat was decisive and it would not occur to us to pick it out as the measure best adapted to inspire an effective compromise. Evidently the opponents of the beaten regulation of railroad operation consider it better to reverse the accustomed order and swallow this gnat, the full crew bill, rather than to swallow the veto camel. That is not an unwise decision. Since the Katy bill was killed by the executive it is but sense to assume the Cotton Belt and Santa Fe consolidation plans will meet with like treatment. If the Katy bill is passed over the veto so will the other similar measures be passed. There is, of course, no comparison in point of importance of the consolidation bill with the full crew bill. So if the railroads find it politic to accept the latter to effect the passage of the former, the legion of friends of consolidation will be glad of the compromise.

We take no stock, however, in the suggestion that the passage of the consolidation bill over the veto will be a "test" of the strength of future disapproval by the executive of any measure passed by this session. That is neither sensible, nor just to the members themselves. There is so little division of opinion on the merits of the consolidation bills that the passage of them now would be no more than the consistent maintenance of the body's position. Not so with other leading measures, nor with the situation in either house as regards the importance of these. We think, in a word, the position of this legislature, as of all fair legislatures, will be one of due consideration, without animus, of any veto the governor may return; and unless the bill in question passed both houses by a vote so decisive as to assure full confidence in its merits and the necessity for it, there will be no suggestion of passage over the veto. The governor's veto should be exercised carefully, but fearlessly, but so should the convictions of the legislature be followed on any measure. We do not in the least consider that the passage of the consolidation bill over the veto will be a personal, "direct" thrust at Mr. Colquitt. It will be wholly the expression of the State's law makers that the plans embodied in this bill, if validated by the courts on the test of constitutionality that is certain to follow passage, will be directly beneficial to Texas.

The refusal of Porfirio Diaz to comment on the death of Francisco Madero is quite as informing as the utterances of Huerta and de la Barra.

Texas Viewpoints

Youthful Strategy.
To our recent expression of wonderment that young Col. Lochridge of The Austin Statesman was moved to give a serious tinge to his boasts of the superiority of the settlement that thrives on the State House and fatens on the University, over the city of Waco that does business while Austin is waiting for session and term to come along, young Col. Lochridge thus rejoins:

We have it. We have it. Colonel Harris is sensitive about that Ambic building, the alleged Brazos river navigation and the great business Austin does while Waco rests so quietly and its citizens remark "Requiescat in pace." Really, Colonel Harris, had we known you were so sensitive about those points, we would have not referred to them. We thought that perhaps a suggestion might aid you in your campaign to improve the city which is famous principally for its Huaco Club and Philo Club. But if you are sensitive, we will forget it all. We will not just about such serious matters ever more.

Obviously our young friend still considers efficacious that form of answer which would assume to cover the situation thuswise: "All that you said I is, you is!"

In Shreveport several months ago a certain woman induced a man whom she liked to kill her husband in order that she might live with the murderer. The woman planned and hatched the scheme. She made a full confession and told all about the awful details. She was tried and given just five years in the penitentiary. And now her case has been appealed. The lawyer who is defending her wants her turned loose on society. What ought really be done with a lawyer who will take a case like this any way, and do his best to have his client cleared?—Palestine Record.

We are somewhat disappointed that the editor did not answer his own question. We assume from the context of his comment and query that he would consider it not unfitting that a barrister of that sort be socially and professionally ostracized, and we would be interested in his argument therefor, as he is a man of lively ideas. We won't attempt to say what should be done with the practitioner lest we be accused of impractical, idealistic view of the ethics of the legal legion. The lawyer who today will not voluntarily assume the defence of a heinous offence when he is assured of the guilt of client is as numerous as oases in the Sahara, especially if his work is to be lucrative. We say we don't know what should be done with the luminary in question or with his type, but we know what is done for him. His services are sought, his offices are imposing, his house is big and intermittently he is made State's attorney. The more difficult the case, the more glaring the guilt of client, the greater is his triumph if client is freed and the fatter are his chances of professional advancement. We confess our chiefest surprise in the instance cited by the Palestine editor is that the resourceful female was found guilty—in this part of the land.

Gov. Colquitt vetoed the Katy merger bill and there will be an attempt to pass it over his head. The remaining bills of like nature have not been passed and their fate is problematical. It appears that the plain people are more interested in better train service than in the financial conditions of the railroads or in questions of State policy regarding them.—The Champion (Center).

We sometimes think the people should be very grateful it has over its affairs men of mind so omniscient they will not be swayed by the clamor of the lowbrowed commonality. As The Champion points out, popular sentiment favors the consolidation measures for the reason that there is a widespread belief the State will be the gainer by this practical ordering of the affairs of a number of small lines of railroad in the development that must follow these being made parts of systems able and willing to improve and extend the property. But no—our saner sages reverence the constitution above the desires of the masses, reverence it so much they are not averse to elasticity of its application; and it is decided that they owe a greater duty to "policy" and reports of unprofitable railroad operation than to public and to plans to make that operation more profitable. It is a glorious era and the people should be grateful they cannot always have their way!

Again The Pretenders.

The Dallas Press Club has almost reached a long sought goal. It scored a touchdown Monday afternoon when the quarters were warmed. Now, M. Texas Editor, when you visit the metropolis of this State don't fail to visit the headquarters of the Press Club in Texas, eat a chicken sandwich and drink a cup of Oolong tea.—Dallas Times-Herald.

What meat for San Antonio and Houston press clubs and paragraphs who enjoy membership in "em"? The attention of Messrs. Sullivan and Butler of The Express is gleefully directed to "the metropolis of this State" dig and the satire of Col. Bailey is steered to that "best press club quarters in Texas" stall, with the hope that he will also not overlook the "warm" in "the Dallas bunch's retreat and the ladylike, dainty cuisine invitation to the appetite-ridden editors of the region.

A Strong Man in Mexico.

(Louisville Post.)
"Wanted—A Strong Man in Mexico," is the caption the Philadelphia Ledger puts over an editorial explaining what a fine thing it would be for that distressed country if a man of the type of Porfirio Diaz could arise to take charge of the situation.

Other commentators say the same thing, and many of them add that, if the strong man should show himself, he might be a time and money well spent if a detachment of American troops should be sent into Mexico to assist him into the saddle.

It is, of course, obvious that for other countries and foreign investors a strong man in Mexico would be very pleasant. President Diaz was a strong man, and for twenty-five years he ruled with a heavy hand. But Mexico in the end rose up, not so much against Diaz himself as against that governmental policy that gave the destinies of 15,000,000 people into the hands of one dictator.

Suppose, for the sake of argument, that some strong man of the type the Philadelphia Ledger yearns for should make his appearance and a contingent of American troops should place him in the presidency and confer upon him all the powers possessed for so many years by former President Diaz. This could be done. The ragged mob of underpaid, badly clothed and half-starved adventurers that make up the force of any of the revolutionary leaders could not stand against American soldiers any better than Santa Ana's army stood against the armies of Scott and Taylor nearly three-quarters of a century ago. But what then? A dictator, placed in power by American bayonets, could hold his power only so long as those bayonets remained. Mexico may accept, for a time, a dictator who raises himself as Diaz raised himself, but the national spirit would not permit such a rule brought about by foreign soldiers.

On the other hand, if we look at the program of a continued military occupation of Mexico by American troops there can be no estimate made of the cost and difficulties of such an undertaking. To march from the sea to Mexico City to dislodge the insurgents and to restore around the capital the semblance of order—these things would be more expensive than difficult. But what of the cost and trouble of maintaining order in the provinces, as we would be compelled to do if we assumed, even for a time, the responsibility of the situation?

The Associated Press quotes a high military authority at Washington as advising the policy of "letting them fight it out." It is sound advice. It may be that the disorders will continue for some time, and that more blood will flow, but even if it be admitted that the only outcome is a dictatorship it will be far better for the future that the Mexicans choose their own dictator.

Mexico is plainly in a ferment. In the provinces as well as around the capital, and the end no one can see. But why conclude that the situation is hopeless? The strong man in Mexico is not only a strong man, but a sufficient. Chili and Argentina are getting along reasonably well without strong men, and Mexico may yet be able to work out her own salvation.

Smoke and Prosperity.

(Birmingham Age-Herald.)
The more smoke we have the better for Birmingham. While some of the smaller industries may be operated profitably at the present time without making much smoke, many would fail were they forced to try it, and as for the large industries, the enforcement of an anti-smoke ordinance would be a very serious handicap to say the least. In some cases such an ordinance would certainly mean a shut down.

No one should ever disparage the city beautiful idea. All will agree that fine streets, handsome houses and well kept lawns add to a city's attractiveness, but in order to have a firm foundation on which to build the city beautiful, material prosperity is absolutely essential. The great growth of Birmingham has been made possible by the pay rolls and the time has certainly not come when we can afford to enforce a law that might retard a single industrial enterprise.

At this juncture the people are unquestionably on the side of the smoke as against the anti-smoke ordinance. Commissioner Weatherly, who has the good of the city at heart, will doubtless take a reasonable view of the situation and call off his smoke inspectors.

CALIFORNIA IS FIRM OPPOSITION

WILL NOT AGREE TO THE DISOLUTION PLAN OF THE PACIFIC.

WOULD CREATE MONOPOLY

Make Strong Stand Against the Agreement That Wickersham Has Allowed to Be Offered.

San Francisco, Feb. 25.—The railroad commission, in a supplemental finding published today, explained in part that it disagreed with the plan advised by Attorney General Wickersham for the separation of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific lines, as decreed by the United States supreme court.

The supplemental finding says: "The essential elements of the plan of the supreme court, as added to by attorney general, are:

First, the sale of the the Southern Pacific stock by the Union Pacific.
Second, the procuring by the Union Pacific of an outlet to the coast over the Central Pacific, and,
Third, the surrender by the Southern Pacific company of so much Central Pacific line as is necessary to prevent the said Southern Pacific company from controlling a line designed to compete with the El Paso route.

"With the first requirement we have no direct or official concern, but we invite the attention of the attorney general to the contention of the Southern Pacific Railroad company, that the syndicate formed by Kuhn, Loeb & Co., the Union Pacific bankers, is in effect accomplishing by indirect means, what the supreme court refused to permit to be accomplished directly, viz:

"The purchase by the stockholders of the Union Pacific of the Southern Pacific stock."

"It is urged that this banking house and the syndicate formed by it are controlled by the large stockholders of the Union Pacific and that by making the Southern Pacific stock an undesirable instrument, the stockholders of the Southern Pacific company will be deterred from buying and the Union Pacific controlled syndicate will thereby secure control of this stock, thus leaving the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific controlled by the same stockholders, and an arrangement which the supreme court has already condemned."

Stockton, Cal., Feb. 25.—"The plans by which the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific railroads had intended to dissolve were so excellently prepared," according to a statement made by Railroad Commissioner Max Thelen today, "that they would have left the Union Pacific in complete control."

"I have no doubt that the Union Pacific intended to gobble up the Southern Pacific and it would have been enabled to do so under the decision of the attorney general, had not the state railroad commission of California taken the action it did. "The evidence adduced at the hearing showed that every effort was made to weaken the Southern Pacific so that it would be nothing but a servant of the greater Union Pacific. The Southern Pacific stock in New York was hammered down to a low rate, so that the stockholders in that corporation would become frightened, whereupon the Union Pacific upon its purchasing syndicate would have become the actual owner of the Southern Pacific."

"In granting the request for dissolution under the plans of the attorney general the railroad commission imposed conditions which will make the dissolution as proposed impossible."

Open Competition Only.
The granting of the request for dissolution under the plans of the attorney general the railroad commission imposed conditions which will make the dissolution as proposed impossible."

In a decision handed down late last night bearing on the situation of the two roads in California, the commission denied the application of the Union Pacific for a 999 year lease of the Southern Pacific's connecting link between Oakland and Sacramento, known as the Benicia short line and further declared that wherever the Southern Pacific granted the Union Pacific's subsidiary in California, the Central Pacific, joint use of its terminal facilities and industry tracks it should grant the same privilege to another competing line of similar character.

Western Demands Equal Rights.

Western Pacific attorneys demanded equal rights with the Central Pacific and were upheld. This ruling of the commission, together with the findings of other attorneys, were telegraphed to Attorney General Wickersham at St. Louis, where the dissolution plans were being considered in federal court. The telegram contained a strong criticism of the plans as previously agreed upon in Washington between the attorney general and railroad officials and another method of bringing about the dissolution was suggested. Instead of forcing the Southern Pacific to sell the Central Pacific line from Ogden to San Francisco, the commission recommends that the Central Pacific be leased for a long term of years to the Union Pacific, thus making a through line for the Union Pacific.

Propose Another Plan.

This plan is indicated in the telegram as follows:
"Judge Lovett testified that imposition of control would require further negotiations and would defeat the plan and requested that if the commission found such a course necessary it indicate the terms upon which it would approve those matters within its jurisdiction."

The commission objects to the breaking up of the local system of the Southern Pacific within the state of California and suggests that your design to divest the Southern Pacific of a line from the coast to Ogden, which would be competitive with its own line, could be brought about equally well by a lease by the Union Pacific of the main line of the Central Pacific from Ogden to San Francisco and thence by Stockton and Niles to Oakland, thus leaving the Southern Pacific in control of the local system within the state of California.

"If, however, after considering this suggestion, you and the court are of the opinion that the better plan is for the Southern Pacific to sell the Central Pacific stock, the commission will waive its objection."

The telegram continues, however, with the statement that "Either on the basis of the sale of stock or the least of the main lines, suggested by the United States, the commission will insist upon its conditions respecting the joint use of the Benicia short line and the terminals and the other conditions heretofore referred to."

Other Requests Made.

The other requests contained in the joint application of the Southern and Central Pacific respecting leases and transfers in the final dissolution, were approved. These include: Lease by Central Pacific to Southern Pacific of its line from Tehama to the Oregon line for a term of 999 years. Joint trackage rights over Bay Shore cut-off from Redwood to San Francisco for a term of fifty years. Lease by Central Pacific to Southern Pacific of the California portion of the line from Weed to Natron, Oregon. Further conditions to the unemerging contemplated by Mr. Wickersham and the railroad officials in that agreement, the addition of the denial to the Central Pacific of special favors from the Southern Pacific are set forth as follows:

The Central Pacific is limited to the line from Sacramento by way of Niles to Oakland as an exclusive route. The Central Pacific reserves the right to pass upon valuations for rental and sale purposes when arrived at under the method provided in the contract.

Commission imposes the condition that Central and Southern Pacific shall file joint valuations which shall not exceed the rates now in effect between the same points upon the Southern Pacific within the state of California. Commission reserves that its approval shall not serve right to extend any franchise of any competitors involved.

TO MEET AT AUSTIN

DIRECTORS OF A. & M. COLLEGE TO PRESENT THE FULL RECORD.

Judge Guion Says There is a Spirit of Rebellion Present in Student Body.

Fort Worth, Feb. 25.—Chairman Walton Peete, Judge E. R. Kone and Judge J. J. Guion, who had been sent to Austin tonight to present the findings of the hearing investigation to Governor Colquitt and the legislature. This committee was appointed Tuesday morning following Monday's and Monday night's session. The upshot of the whole investigation was the directors' willingness to re-admit the 466 strikers and refusal to take back the twenty-seven expelled for hazing.

This action resulted in breaking off all negotiations for a compromise. Judge Guion took exception to the memorial drafted by ex-Senator Senter of Dallas, who appeared before the board Monday in behalf of the striking and expelled cadets. "That part of the senator's memorial claiming that the board did not give him a proper hearing," said the director. "Every courtesy was extended Mr. Senter and I am sure he had every opportunity in the world to introduce his evidence. He is a lawyer and knows the value of taking advantage of every little opportunity or thing that may present itself and he is doing this in the present investigation. The records of the hearing will bear me out when I say the senator was given every courtesy possible. He had an absolute fair and impartial hearing."

Spirit of Rebellion.

According to Judge Guion there is a spirit of rebellion in the college and he believes it is a case of whether the faculty or the student body is to rule the school in the future. For this reason he believes the board should stand back of the faculty and give it every support possible.

The hearing of the faculty's side of the controversy was begun Monday night. The hearing was held in the hall of the college and was attended by a large number of the faculty members. Break Comes Suddenly.
The break in the peace negotiations regarding the striking A. & M. students came suddenly Monday afternoon as had the peace proposals in the morning.

Struggle for Equality.

(New Orleans Picayune.)
The violence of the English women who are fighting for suffrage is astonishing. It is a case of whether the faculty or the student body is to rule the school in the future. For this reason he believes the board should stand back of the faculty and give it every support possible.

That the women are to have suffrage just the same as men in public elections in England just as they have attained it in some of the states of the great American republic is not to be doubted, but it will never be gained by another peaceful and orderly struggle played in England. Woman suffrage has been conferred in every case by the votes and approval of men, and it is only on those terms that it can be got.

The women must not make themselves hateful to the men, on the contrary, they must continue to hold the love and regard of the men as they have in the past, and the prize, if it be a prize, will be won.

Men have heretofore loved women because they regarded them as weaker creatures that had to be protected and cherished. But the feeling is changing. Women have successfully invaded every province and domain in the world's business to such an extent that they have demonstrated an ability to take care of themselves and in many cases to support their men. Women have demonstrated their ability to do almost anything, and at first men resented it, but now they are coming to recognize woman's ability to care for herself, and men accept her as a comrade who no longer needs to be petted and played with. She is allowed to exercise all sorts of independence, among which is that to stand up in a street car and hang on to a strap as a matter of right.

Work has been started upon the construction of the $75,000 water, gas and light plant for the city, and it is expected that the plant will be in operation in time to handle this summer's trade.

In the latest hotel project in New York every room will have a bath.

WACO Y WINS A TIGHT GAME
FROM BAYLOR UNIVERSITY.

Anybody's Victory Up to the Last Whistle—Some Good Playing Was Done.

An enthusiastic crowd of rooters saw the Baylor basketball team go down to defeat before the Y. M. C. A. tossers last night at the Y. M. C. A. by the close score of 22 to 21. The victory was especially pleasing to the association team on account of the defeat they already had suffered at the hands of the collegians this season.

The game was replete with spectacular plays, but at times was unnecessarily rough. Wrangling also marred the game somewhat. However, the spectators got their money's worth in thrills. It was anybody's game until the final whistle and the spectators vented their enthusiasm in noises of all sorts, from cowbells to tin horns.

The short passing of the Y. M. C. A. had the college boys puzzled throughout the game, but Baylor showed better class in basketing the ball and kept the score close by being able to hit the circle. Both teams had a tendency to play the man rather than the ball, hence the large number of fouls called.

Lindsay of the "Y" showed the best ability of any player on either team in playing the ball, repeatedly following his own shot to the basket for the recovery. His defense was good. Ruhman's foul shooting was one of the features of the game. Hall guarded well, but should have played the ball more.

For Baylor Ponder at guard and Ward at forward led in the scoring.

The following was the line-up:
Baylor Y. M. C. A.
Ward Moore
McConnell Ruhman

Right forward, Mosley

Left forward, Center.

Burton Lindsay

Ponder Right guard.

Tibbitts Hall

Left guard, Davis

Davis was substituted for Mosley at center, for Y.

CHAMPION OF BOXING.

Methodist Preacher Favors the Manly Art.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—Rev. Frank C. Bruner, a Methodist Episcopal pastor, caused a stir at a meeting of Methodist ministers yesterday when he came out as a champion of boxing. He dissented when resolutions condemning two boxing bills before the Illinois legislature were offered at the ministers' meeting.

"I believe boxing is an art in which every man should take pride," said Rev. Bruner. "I cannot agree that it is demoralizing. My father was the best boxer in his country. Often I have seen him and my brother put on the gloves and mix it in lively fashion."

"I did not have the gloves on myself, but I did not see anything demoralizing in the bouts between my father and my brother. I am not going to vote for the resolutions."

Nevertheless they were adopted.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—Of interest to the hundreds of thousands of foreigners residing in the United States is the draft of a treaty submitted to the senate today by President Taft, amending the existing alien commercial treaty, so as to afford aliens of Italian nationality in this country the same rights as native citizens. Under the favored clauses of their treaties, nearly every other country will have the right to claim the provisions for their subjects residing in America.

Heretofore, under the decisions of the supreme court, it has been held that a non-resident alien had no right of action against a corporation or individual where an injury resulted in death. The treaty submitted today, which was really an amendment to article three of the present Italian-American treaty, will meet this difficulty by specifically giving to the relatives or heirs of a foreigner a right of action in case of injury, unrestricted on account of the nationality of the Americans in Italy will enjoy a corresponding privilege.

Y. M. B. L. Takes Action—Crawford Is Given a Signal Honor By Associates.

The directors of the Young Men's Business League last night wired Representative R. L. Henry that Waco was ready to care for the United States troops, now being mobilized in the state on account of the Mexican situation. The action was taken at the suggestion of W. P. Hobby, of the Waco Morning News. In case the sudden mobilization in Galveston causes overcrowding, Waco is easily accessible with its many railroads, and is particularly advantageous as a centrally located point.

At the regular meeting of the directory of the league, there were present President John F. Wright, S. M. McAshan, Crate Dalton, C. B. McCollum, Joe G. Wren, W. V. Crawford, L. A. Brooks, G. S. McGhee, I. Friedlander, A. D. Adams and Joe Sanzer. A communication was read from C. C. Carr, manager of the Kansas City American Association baseball team, relative to establishing training quarters for try-out material for professional baseball. The school, for such it would be, would employ a regular staff of experienced baseball men as instructors and youngsters would be given a regular schooling in the national sport. The school would be a large recruiting agency for the professional leagues, and would furnish the city in which it was located a large amount of advertising. The matter will be gone into further at the next meeting.

The matter of an engagement of the Dallas Symphony Orchestra was referred to Mr. Spanell of Baylor university. Wm. Laurier, manager of the orchestra, states that the organization will pass through Waco in the early part of April and he desires to play a date here.

W. V. Crawford was elected national counselor to the Chamber of Commerce at Washington, with which the Young Men's Business League is affiliated. The position is an important one and carries with it important duties at the annual meeting, also in appeals from the rulings of the board of directors. The main purpose of the national council is that of acting in an advisory capacity to the board of directors, bringing to its attention all matters that come to his notice in his own locality.

Frank J. Trau, Jas. B. Baker and W. D. Lacy, Jr., were selected to raise from $200 to $500 to assist in carrying on the work of the national rivers and harbors congress. This is a very laudable work and Waco has already felt the benefits of the organization. The purpose of the congress is to bring to the attention of the committee of rivers and harbors from the house all matters relating to the improvement of waterways, etc., throughout the country.

A. D. Adams was selected to advise the leaders of the Sunday school convention, which is to be held in Waco March 26, 27 and 28, that the board of directors tendered the services of the convention committee to assist the convention in any manner that the Sunday school people could use them.

ALIENS TO HAVE RIGHT TO SUE IN DEATH CLAIMS

Efforts to Rob Are Stopped by Vigilance of Citizens.

A trunk secreted under a house at 519 North Sixth street was the prize sought by a burglar who first broke into the house and later crawled under the house and was removing the trunk when discovered. He escaped after two shots were fired at him by Mrs. Gabel, who with her son were the only occupants of the house. One shot was fired at the man through a window and the second shot was fired after the woman had run out at the front door and as the intruder was scaling a nearby fence. The police arrived shortly afterwards and made a thorough search of the neighborhood without finding any trace of the burglar.

About an hour before the call to North Sixth street the police were called to Sixth and Dutton streets. It was reported that a burglar was trying to break into a residence there. A third call came from 827 Cleveland street. The officers found no trace of the prowlers and are inclined to believe it was the same party doing all of the work.

Some time ago the officers picked up two parties who were working the residence section as beggars and they were fined on a vagrancy charge. The police believe that the person doing the work last night was thoroughly acquainted with the location of all the residences.

Some day someone will write the opening chorus of a musical show the words of which can be understood in the front row. But if the plan succeeded we might regret it.—Los Angeles Times.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY IS WORKING SLOWLY ON A FEW CASES.

Slayden-Kirksey Case Goes Over—The Docket for Today—List of Naturalization Cases.

The federal grand jury impaneled Monday is working slowly. Witnesses in cases bound over to the grand jury by United States Commissioner A. P. McCormick gave testimony all day yesterday and the jury did not report when an adjournment was taken late yesterday.

Federal Judge T. S. Maxey convened court and dismissed the appearance case of George Houghton vs. the Southwestern Telegraph and Telephone company. He passed the M. C. H. Park, trustee, case against W. W. Cameron and E. R. Bolton until Thursday.

As stockholders and officials of the Slayden-Kirksey Mill, which went into bankruptcy some months ago, the defendants in this case are being sued by the trustee for settlement. The case has created considerable interest because so many persons were stockholders in the company. It was chartered as one of the largest concerns of its kind in the southwest.

A continuance was granted in the Forster & Ostall vs. Joseph B. Simmons case. The plaintiffs are Italy brokers who are suing Simmons for damages amounting to $12,500 through failure to deliver cotton he is claimed to have agreed to deliver to them. The foreign brokers allege that they lost this amount through negotiations they made to dispose of the cotton profited them under contract.

The only other case on the docket, that of the Autosales Gum and Chocolate company vs. the Texas Gum company, was passed until Friday.

The docket for today is as follows: P. D. C. Ball vs. H. B. Emmons et al. Charles W. Hickman vs. Ed Castiblanco et al.

J. L. Spert et al vs J. Crouch and son.

The following naturalization applications have been considered and those not granted have been taken under advisement: Samuel Rubel, Joseph Hegar, Olaf Svenson, John Massier, Philip Massier, Sam Harris, Herman Reinhold Brown, Abraham Berwig, Joseph Pavlick, Barney Bruegling, John Petrasek, Louis Benjamin Leshin.

Held to Grand Jury.

William Rovey, charged with burglary of T. P. Moore's residence on Taylor street, was held to await the action of the grand jury following a preliminary hearing of the case before Justice J. J. Padgett yesterday afternoon.

Ara Bell Shannon, a negro woman, was held to await the action of the grand jury yesterday on charge of arson, in connection with a fire which was started in the National Barber shop on City Hall square two weeks ago. Bond was set at $500. It was shown that the woman had been seen about the shop, where she worked, about fifteen minutes before the fire broke out and it later developed that oil had been sprinkled about the back of the building.

pos and the two Orozcos, the most valiant leaders, it is announced, have expressed willingness to co-operate. If the expected arrangements are made, it is not improbable that they may be employed in combating the elements of the new revolution centered in Coahuila.

Laredo Port Is Closed.

The official closing of the port of Laredo was the first official intimation here that the government regarded the rebels to the north of Monterey as unfriendly to the new regime. It had been stated officially that Venustiano Carranza, governor of Coahuila, had decided to abandon his antagonistic attitude, but hope of this has greatly diminished and the cutting of the National railroad between San Luis Potosi and Saltillo and between San Luis and Tampico indicates that the government has much work before it can subdue the rebels.

Huerta Will Not Retaliate. President Huerta insists that his will not be a government of retaliation or revenge.

As indicating the sincerity of the president, most of those who were arrested immediately after the overthrow of Madero have been released, among them Juan Sanchez Azcona, Madero's private secretary.

An amnesty proclamation has been sent broadcast. The government has not forgotten to extend rewards. As a general Huerta long resented failure of some of his companions in arms to receive promotion, and on his assumption of power new straps have been bestowed upon numerous officers. Among those honored is Colonel Diaz Ordaz, General Felix Diaz' chief lieutenant at Vera Cruz. He was removed from the military prison there, promoted to general and named as commandant of Vera Cruz.

resulted in his arrest, has been released and it is said will retire.

Rodolfo Reyes, minister of justice, probably will retire from the cabinet, so that he may be free to conduct his own campaign for the presidency. A report is current that he has had a disagreement with President Huerta. Reyes denies this, however, and says that if he retires it will be on account of private business.

Three States in South.

In the far south, three states—Tasaco, Campeche and Yucatan, have not yet recognized the new government. There Vice President Suarez had a big following, which has not taken kindly to his death. Owing to the remoteness of these states, the government is not inclined to consider their attitude a menace.

The attitude of President Huerta and his advisers is one of optimism. They profess to believe energetic action, coupled with diplomacy, will result in early pacification of the country.

Regarding adherence of the state of Aguas Calientes, there has been some doubt, and General Carlos Dorcio Hidalgo, chief of staff of President Huerta, has been sent there to take over the government. He is the fifth general to be slated for a governorship.

There has been much unofficial speculation as to what the attitude of the foreign governments will be concerning the killing of Madero and Suarez, but diplomats are inclined to believe that their governments will accept for the present, at any rate, the official version, especially since it appears impossible to establish counter facts.

American Ambassador Wilson called on President Huerta this afternoon, and at the palace it was unofficially stated that he had presented representations from Washington for a more detailed and circumstantial account of the deaths of the former president and vice president.

The commission charged with the investigation has taken considerable testimony, but has made none of it public. Some of the chiefs under Zapata are conferring with the government and declaring their willingness to support the administration, notwithstanding its refusal to recognize the rank of the officers of the army. They say they will join the government with their men and aid in conquering Zapata.

The flight of Ernesto Madero and Francisco Madero, uncle and father of the late president, became known here only tonight. Ernesto Madero had attempted to induce certain troops to join in a new revolution and orders had been issued for his arrest.

Accept Official Version.

Washington, Feb. 25.—Now that the first shock of the tragic death of Madero and Suarez has passed over, influenced largely by the reassuring reports from Ambassador Wilson and his appeal to the American people, officials here are beginning to accept the official version of the affair. Unquestionably they believe great carelessness was exhibited in failing properly to protect the prisoners, but that, after all, it is pointed out, is less than a deliberate murder plot.

Ambassador Wilson will be permitted to continue to exercise his own discretion in dealing with the new government. Mr. Wilson says the new government is friendly to the United States and has shown a disposition to meet reasonable requests for the protection of American interests in Mexico, which were, to a large degree, ignored by the Madero government.

Officials do not expect immediate restoration of peace throughout Mexico. It is recalled that the dominant party in that country practically is a new one; unless, indeed, it can be considered a reincarnation of the old party of Porfirio Diaz. There is nothing in common between it and the revolutionists, who, more than a year ago, have been warring on Madero. Already President Huerta has been offering terms to the Orozco followers in the north with some degree of success. Indications are that similar negotiations with the Zapatistas in the south have failed; wherefore the decision to begin a most active campaign against that party.

Important Data.

Melbourne, Australia, Feb. 25.—Lord Denham, governor general of Australia, received a wireless from Dr. Mawson today in which he says: "Our sledging season has been very successful. We have opened a large area of new land, both east and west of Commonwealth bay. We have obtained important new data from numbers of stations in close proximity to the magnetic pole."

"It is probable that six of the staff of the expedition, as well as myself, may be unavoidably detained for another year in the Antarctic."

HAVE NO COUNTRY

PEOPLE OF PORTO RICO CEASE TO BE SPAIN'S AND ARE NOT OF U. S.

Citizens of United States Who Go There Are Citizens, and Natives Are Not.

Washington, Feb. 25.—Following close upon President-elect Wilson's espousal of the cause of United States citizenship for the people of Porto Rico, Senator Poindexter of Washington, of the senate committee on Porto Rico, made a favorable report to the senate on the house bill conferring that right upon the Porto Rican people.

The bill passed the house last March, but because of the opposition of some of the members of the committee, it had been impossible to get a report on it up to this time.

Senator Clarke of Arkansas has taken a position against the bill on the ground that it would place Porto Rico in the way of becoming a state, which he thinks would be undesirable.

In their report the committee says: "At the present time these people are in the anomalous condition of being, in their international relations, a people without a country. They have ceased to be subjects of Spain and have not become citizens of the United States. In traveling abroad they do not have the benefit of the protection due to citizens of the United States or of any other country. The further inconsistencies of the situation exist in the island of one class, consisting of citizens of the United States who have migrated to the island and taken up their residence there, who have the privileges of citizenship, while those who inhabit the island at the time of its cession from Spain, and their descendants, constitute a class without the privileges of citizenship. This situation is un-American and inevitably tends to friction and discontent."

INDIAN APPROPRIATION BILL.

Passes Senate, Carrying Over Thirteen Million Dollars.

Washington, Feb. 25.—Carrying approximately $13,657,852, of which $10,092,532 is appropriated out of the treasury, the remainder being reimbursable items, the Indian appropriation bill was today passed by the senate.

The measure as passed almost doubles the appropriation authorized by the house. The senate increased the house appropriations for the suppression of liquor traffic among the Indians and the improvement of Indian schools. Several irrigation projects are provided for. A heated attack on the proposal to transport the Apache Indians, now held prisoners of war on the Fort Sill military reservation in Oklahoma, into New Mexico and Arizona, was made by Senator Fall of New Mexico. He offered an amendment prohibiting the use of funds in this manner. Three points of order were made against the amendment, but all of them were withdrawn upon the appeal of Senator Fall. Senator Owen finally renewed the point and the amendment offered by Senator Fall was not adopted.

MEAN LITTLE POLITICS.

Senator Smith Denounces the Civil Service.

Washington, Feb. 25.—"There is more mean, contemptible, little politics behind the civil service today than is understood by the public," said Senator Smith of Michigan today, in a fight over the postoffice appropriation bill in the senate.

"There has not been a cabinet officer in charge of any department of the government in recent years who actually run his own department," he continued. "He has been blinded by the men in the department who are protected by the civil service laws. If you seek to know anything, you have

The provision in the postoffice bill, to require popular election of postmasters in fourth-class offices paying salaries of more than $100 provoked much debate. Senator Briarow said it would prove a much more satisfactory method of filling postoffices than to place the postmasters under civil service rules. The provision was finally stricken out of the bill on a point of order, which the chair sustained.

MONEY TRUST VOTE TODAY.

Committee Will Meet to Pass on Its Findings.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The house money trust committee probably will vote tomorrow on its report which will be submitted to the house on Thursday or Friday. The committee today completed the reading of the analysis of the testimony taken throughout the hearings, prepared by Samuel Untermyer, its counsel. The report will be based almost entirely on Mr. Untermyer's recommendations.

No session of the committee was held tonight, but individual members studied the details of Mr. Untermyer's proposals for remedial financial legislation and will assemble tomorrow to discuss them. The committee expects to conclude its discussion and get to a vote before tomorrow night.

At a hearing, held by the committee today, considerable evidence of a statistical nature was incorporated in the record. Lawrence O. Scudder, the committee's statistician, was on the stand. He presented two charts showing in a graphic way the details of the affiliations of J. P. Morgan and company and other New York, Boston and Chicago bankers, with banks and trust companies, railroads, public utilities corporations, insurance companies and industrial concerns, through stock ownership interlocking directorates, underwriting affiliations and voting trusts. These charts, which, according to Mr. Scudder, are based entirely on the testimony taken by the committee, will be included as a part of the report.

Sundry Civil Bill.

Washington, Feb. 25.—Carrying a total appropriation of $118,525,725, the Sundry civil appropriation bill was reported from the senate committee on appropriations today by its chairman, Senator Warren. This is an increase of $5,362,106 over the amount the bill carried when it passed the house.

The bill includes Senator Perkins' amendment appropriating $1,500,000 for a government display at the Panama exposition in San Francisco. The only large item of increase is that of $2,323,972 for the enlargement of the capitol grounds at Washington. Another increase is $237,540 for the construction of a drainage system at Hot Springs, Ark.

CONTRACTORS ORDER A DEATH

Man Who Killed Walking Delegate Tells Who Employed Him as Gunner.

New York, Feb. 25.—Abraham Steinberg, a walking delegate, was murdered on orders of buttonhole contractors who feared his labors would injure their business, according to the alleged confession today of Harry Wagner, the man charged with the killing.

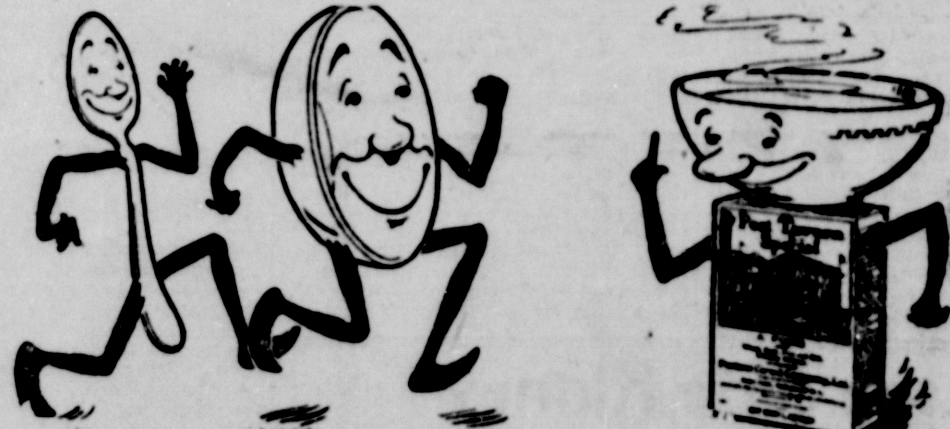

Wagner, who was arrested shortly after the murder, January 7, confessed to the police, they say, that he committed the crime for $50, and because of a threat that he would be prosecuted for forgery. The subject of the contractors was to prevent the signing of a contract, arranged by Steinberg, which would have eliminated them as middlemen and caused the clothing manufacturers and the National Buttonhole Makers Union to deal directly with each other.

Wagner, the police say, named Abraham Flalkoff as the buttonhole contractor whose name he had forged to checks. Flalkoff, his 18-year-old daughter, and Louis Weinstein, also a buttonhole contractor, were arrested today. The men charged with homicide and the girl with being accessory after the fact.

Caucus in the next house of representatives, indications tonight being that he is not a member of the new cabinet. This was revealed when Representative Burleson announced that he would not be a candidate for re-election as caucus chairman.

President-elect Wilson, according to reports tonight, has expressed a wish that Mr. Palmer might serve as chairman of the caucus in the busy sessions of the next congress, and it is known that Representative Underwood, of Alabama, democratic leader of the house, favors Mr. Palmer's selection.

Democrats of the new house will hold their first caucus March 5 to select the new house officers and Mr. Palmer will be put in nomination for the post of permanent presiding officer of the caucus and will have the backing of the present house leaders.

Mr. Palmer, who is prominent in the tariff revision work, has charge of the metal schedule in the framing of the new tariff legislation now under way by the ways and means committee for submission at the extra session of congress.

SNEED NOT GUILTY COMES TO WACO

JURY SAYS VERDICT WAS FOUND WITHIN THREE MINUTES' TIME.

FREED MAN CLAPS HIS HANDS

Judge Starts to Fine Him, But Changes His Mind—Quick Trial.

Vernon, Tex., Feb. 25.—John Beal Sneed, acquitted today of the charge of killing Al Boyce at Amarillo September 14, was overwhelmed with messages of congratulations before he started on his journey to Waco, where his wife and children are.

One message, signed W. D. Lacy and others, read: "All Waco rejoicing with us in justice."

Sneed went to Fort Worth on the noon train and was to reach Waco Wednesday morning at 1 o'clock. He did not notify his wife or his children of his vindication. His uncle, "Uncle Jimmie" Sneed, who lives at 1704 Washington street, wired Mrs. J. W. Sneed of the verdict. Beal Sneed's wife and children live on the 200 block North Fifteenth street, three blocks away. A governess is teaching Sneed's two little girls.

Sneed Claps His Hands.

John Beal Sneed was found not guilty on the first ballot this morning of the charge of murdering Al Boyce, Jr., at Amarillo, September 14.

Despite Judge Nabers' severe warning against demonstration before the verdict was read, the clerk had proceeded no further than the word "not" when Sneed leaped from his chair and clapped his hands.

"Who did that?" Judge Nabers asked, craning his neck to see into the group about the defendant.

"I did it, judge," Sneed answered, stepping forward, his face crimson with joy.

"I fine you $50, Mr. Sneed," Judge Nabers said, smiling. Then in the same breath: "No, I won't. Either, No, no, I won't."

Then applause broke over the entire audience and Sneed was carried toward the door of the district clerk's office by the press of the crowd, eager to shake hands with him.

One Man "On Fence."

The case went to the jury Monday night at 10 o'clock. It developed today that a 20-minute discussion followed and only one man was "on the fence." All the rest were for acquittal. The jury decided to wait until morning before taking a ballot.

Most of us lived far out in the country," one of the jurors said today, "and we knew we would have to stay in town and pay hotel bills if we reported last night. Besides, we were all pretty tired after listening to so much argument and didn't feel like trying to convince the one dissenting juror."

"Call it a three-minute verdict," another juror said today. "It took just about that long to write out the ballots. The man on the fence came across in the night without any argument from the rest of us."

One of the jurors said the verdict would have been the same if the defense had failed to introduce a single witness. He said that about all the prosecution had proved was that Sneed killed Boyce, and they knew Sneed admitted that, and they had a general idea of Sneed's provocation.

Opinion "Remained Fixed."

T. Bunker, the elderly German farmer, who was accepted by both sides as a juror after he had declared he had a fixed opinion that would influence his verdict, said today that his opinion remained fixed. He was foreman of the jury.

All of Sneed's relatives, who have been here since the trial began two weeks ago Monday, were in the court room when the verdict was returned. No member of the Boyce family was present and none of the private prosecutors. District Attorney Spencer, who had started trying some minor criminal cases, sat unmoved at a table when the verdict was read and resumed his trial of the other case as soon as order was restored.

Trial Was Quick.

This trial began February 10 and

BACKACHE A WARNING ALL SHOULD HEED

It is One of the First Signs of Kidney Troubles, If Neglected, Serious Diseases Follow.

No one can be well and healthy unless the kidneys work properly and keep the blood pure. When they become clogged up and inactive, nature has a way of warning you. Backache is one of the first symptoms. You may also be troubled with disagreeable, annoying bladder disorders; have attacks of lumbago or rheumatism; become nervous, tired, ever feel all worn-out; puffiness may show under the eyes or in the feet and ankles; and many other symptoms are noticed. If they are neglected, dropsy, diabetes or Bright's disease, which so often prove fatal, may result.

It is not only dangerous, but needless for you to suffer and endure the tortures of these troubles, for the new discovery, Croxone, quickly and surely ends all such misery.

There is no more effective remedy known for the prompt cure of all such troubles than this new, scientific preparation, because it removes the cause. It soaks right into the kidneys, through the walls and linings; cleans out the clogged up pores; neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid and waste matter that lodge in the joints and muscles and cause those terrible rheumatic pains, and makes the kidneys filter and sift the poison out of the blood and drive it from the system.

You will find Croxone different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results.

You can secure an original package of Croxone at trifling cost from any first-class drug store. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Croxone should fail in a single case. Three doses a day for a few days is often all that is ever needed to cure the worst backache, relieve rheumatic pains, or overcome urinary disorders.

has been the quickest of the Sneed trials.

Mrs. Sneed, placed in a Fort Worth sanitarium to get her away from Al Boyce, young bachelor ranchman of Amarillo, eloped with Boyce to Winnipeg, Canada, November 8, 1911. Sneed spent thousands of dollars and enlisted the services of Burns' most skilled detectives in the search that ended with the apprehension of the pair on the day after Christmas, 1911.

Sneed shot and killed Capt. A. G. Boyce, Sr., in the Metropolitan hotel, Fort Worth, January 13, 1912, claiming that the officer had been in a conspiracy with his son to keep Mrs. Sneed away from him.

His first trial in Fort Worth for this killing resulted in a hung jury. He was tried again last November and acquitted. In the meantime, however, he had gone to Amarillo last September, taking with him Beach B. Epling, a tenant farmer of Cottle county. Sneed waited almost a week in a cottage on Polk street, and, at the time of the killing, shot Boyce to death September 14.

Epling, charged with complicity in this killing, recently was acquitted at Memphis, Texas.

Sneed will not talk of his plans for the future. It is believed, though, that in time he will sell out his Texas ranch and farm interests and take his wife and children to some distant state, perhaps on the Pacific or Gulf coast, and settle down to farming again.

Sneed Reaches Waco.

J. Beal Sneed, acquitted at Vernon yesterday of the murder of A. C. Boyce Jr., arrived in Waco last night and went immediately to the home of his uncle on Washington street. His wife and children are living on North Fifteenth street.

Several of Sneed's friends in Waco wired their congratulations, and will welcome him here as a citizen. He has made Waco his home since he was second trial on a charge of killing Capt. A. G. Boyce in Fort Worth Jan. 13, 1912. His uncle moved here last November from Rosebud and resides at 1704 Washington street.

Sneed has not stated whether he will make Waco his future home. Shortly after his uncle moved here he rented a house for his wife, and she has been here a major portion of the time his two cases have been in the courts.

"FINEST" GET CHICKEN.

Sol Fraser and Night Chief Prater Serve a Feast.

Anyone passing the different Waco policemen on their various beats last night could not help but notice the kindly-toward-all-humanity expression worn by each guardian of the peace.

Investigation proved that the cause of the unusual satisfaction on the part of the members of "Waco's best" was just chicken. Not "a" chicken, but several chickens—chickens and dumplings that were furnished by Sol Fraser and Night Chief Prater, acting as chef, served the whole force a good old-fashioned chicken and dumpling supper at the city hall.

Needless to state that the tender fowls, basted all around with juicy dumplings like mother used to make, were an appreciated treat to the force.

INDICTMENTS ARE JUST TOSSED OUT

WICKERSHAM SAYS THERE WAS NO BASIS FOR THE CHARGES IN OIL CASE.

NOLLE PROS. ON HIS ORDERS

Chief Law Officer Protects the Standard Oil People Against Prosecution.

Dallas, Feb. 25.—On orders from the department of justice at Washington, indictments brought here for alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust law by officials of the Standard Oil company of New York, the Standard Oil company of New Jersey and the Magnolia Petroleum company of Texas, were nolle prossed today. The indictments were dropped both against the companies and their officials.

The men against whom indictments were dropped are John D. Archbold and H. C. Folger Jr. of New York; W. C. Teague of Plainfield, N. J.; Calvin N. Paine of Titusville, Pa.; A. C. Eiler of Dallas; E. R. Brown of Corsicana; and John Sealy of Galveston.

This is the case which Representative Garner brought before the national house of representatives, objecting to Attorney General Wickersham's action in holding up the serving of the warrants issued in Texas against Messrs. Archbold, Folger and Teague.

Today's action was taken in the case of Federal Judge Edgar R. Meek of the northern district of Texas, where the indictments were found. In cases of the oil officials two sets of indictments were found, the second set coming after the department of justice had held service of warrants in the first warrants. No reasons for nolle pressing the cases were given today, the action being taken on brief instructions from Acting Attorney General Fowler at Washington to dismiss the cases.

The indictments charged that the three companies conspired in June, 1912, to injure the business of the Pierce-Pordyce oil company. H. Clay Pierce is chairman of the board of directors of that company. The business alleged to be affected was in Texas, Arizona, New Mexico, Louisiana and Oklahoma, and in Mexico.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 25.—"The indictments in Texas against officials of the Standard Oil company were dismissed because there was no basis for the charges," Attorney General Wickersham, en route to Washington from St. Louis, told the Associated Press here tonight.

"That is my opinion," Mr. Wickersham continued, "and the opinion of my associates. The only person who believed there was ground for the indictments was the government prosecutor in that district, and he probably was influenced by local coloring. If it had been anyone except the Standard Oil officials no indictments ever would have been returned. I did not propose that citizens of the state of New York should be dragged to the state of Texas to stand trial when there was absolutely no reason for such action being taken against them."

Mr. Wickersham will arrive in Washington tomorrow.

By Order of Wickersham.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The Texas oil indictments were dismissed by order of Attorney General Wickersham because in his belief the government did not possess sufficient evidence on which to convict. Acting Attorney General Fowler sent the instructions to the United States attorney at Dallas on the specific directions of the attorney general who is in St. Louis.

The attorney general, for several months has been investigating the character of the evidence upon which the indictments were based, and in the meantime held up the service of the warrants for the arrest of Messrs. Archbold, Folger and Teague of the Standard Oil company on the theory that unless the government had sufficient evidence it was useless to serve the warrants.

Today's action, it is said, does not interfere with the big oil investigation of the department of justice to determine whether the Standard Oil company's former subsidiaries have violated the decree of dissolution. This inquiry is nation-wide and is said to embrace the situation in Texas.

WHAT'LL STOP SOUR STOMACH?

They Act Quick and Relief is Almost Immediate.

There are some things so exactly right that to mention them brings calm and repose. And to use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets gives the stomach just that kind of lift that makes you chuck up one hundred per cent to the good. Particularly is this true with those who suffer with sour stomach. You feel so mean that you actually hate yourself. And yet in a few minutes these tablets sweeten the stomach, arrest unnatural fermentation, start a powerful digestive action and prevent the formation of gas.

They are composed of only such ingredients as are approved by the very best of physicians.

Real, live, progressive people want to be around where the activities of life embrace whatever circumstances dictate. If a house party serves a Welsh rabbit, go to it. It isn't the rabbit, it's the way the world is. It's true, but what if St. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will take care of you, you keep your stomach in control and your dreams won't see an army of hobgoblins playing hob with your system. Many physicians regularly prescribe Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets for the stomach disorders of patients who are ill with some constitutional malady. They do so for the reason that these tablets are not a patent medicine and their composition is known and recognized as the most approved and most powerful of all digestants.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold and recommended by all druggists at 50c a box.

GOOD MUSIC AT ST. PAUL'S.

Second Service to Be Held Next Sunday Evening.

The second of a series of musical services will be held next Sunday evening at St. Paul's Episcopal church. An excellent program has been prepared and among others, the motet "Hear My Prayer" by Mendelssohn, will be rendered during the offertory.

The motet, "Hear My Prayer," is an excellent example of Mendelssohn's style of choral writing.

It opens with an appealing soprano solo, after which the chorus responds in unison with "Hear My Prayer, Oh Lord; Incline Thine Ear," and immediately the solo soprano and chorus alternate in singing short and agitated phrases, beginning with "The Enemy Shouteth," gradually working up to several inspiring climaxes. Again the soprano has a beautiful solo, "Oh, for the Wings of a Dove," which has been fittingly described as bird-like, and this is followed by an effective chorus, with which the work closes.

Miss Eldora Stanford will sing the soprano solos in "Hear My Prayer." Miss Stanford possesses a wonderful, full sweet voice, over which she has remarkable control. The choir has rehearsed assiduously and has mastered the difficulties of the work, and therefore it may safely be predicted that a rare musical treat is in store for the lovers of good music who will avail themselves of the opportunity offered them.

IS THAW COMPETENT?

QUESTION WHETHER HE CAN TESTIFY IS BROUGHT UP IN INVESTIGATION.

Committee Will Examine Him, However and Determine Reliability of Evidence Later On.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 25.—The question of Harry K. Thaw's competency as a witness in the examinations by Governor Sulzer's committee of inquiry is making into charges against William F. Clark, its former secretary, has been raised.

Clark is accused of having used the governor's name in trying to bring about Thaw's release, and in turn has accused James Scott, superintendent of state institutions, and "his immediate underlings of conspiracy to involve the governor." Incidentally Superintendent Russell of Matteawan hospital, where Thaw is confined, has charged John N. Anhut, a New York lawyer, with having offered him a $20,000 bribe to allow Thaw to escape. Anhut will testify tomorrow that he did not attempt to bribe Dr. Russell and the committee will then go to Matteawan to hear what Thaw has got to say about it all.

"The question of Thaw's competency," said Judge Delaney, a member of the committee, tonight, "has been raised, and while Thaw's testimony probably would not hold in a court of record, we are going to examine him. The committee has issued subpoenas for all those whose names have been mentioned in connection with the affair, intending to hear all of them."

Judge Scott today made a formal demand upon the committee that it thoroughly investigate the charges that have been made against his department.

Anhut Will Tell Story.

New York, Feb. 25.—Everything pertinent to the "inquiry" will be told to the investigating committee tomorrow by John F. Anhut, according to a statement issued today by Clifford L. Beare, a lawyer, retained to represent Anhut at the hearing. Denial will be made by Anhut, however, that he had offered any bribe to gain Thaw's release.

Objection to Thaw testifying will be made by Beare, the lawyer, on the ground that Thaw is "irresponsible." Anhut will admit, according to Beare, that he discussed Thaw's case with Superintendent Russell of the Matteawan hospital and that Thaw paid him a "substantial retainer fee" in connection with a new court fight to win his freedom. Beare said it was planned to have western alienists examine Thaw to determine his mental status by claiming the eastern field of alienists had been raked fine during Thaw's previous efforts to be declared sane. Owing to disquieting rumors that got abroad, this plan was abandoned.

TO SUE RAILROADS.

Commission to Proceed Against Two Defaulting Lines.

Austin, Tex., Feb. 25.—The railroad commission this afternoon requested the attorney general's department to bring suits against the Timpson & Northwestern railroad and the Jefferson & Northwestern railroad. The commission of earnings, operating expenses and statistics as provided by laws governing railroads. No reports have been filed by the Timpson line for 358 days, since August, 1912, nor by the Jefferson road for 496 days, since July, 1912. There is a penalty of $500 a day for each day that such reports are not filed.

The commission today fixed a new rate on cement 24 carloads, minimum weight 40,000 pounds per car, from Harrys and Eagle Ford to Beaumont and Port Arthur, via Texas & Pacific railway and Texas & New Orleans railroads, 13 cents per 100 pounds. Effective October 21, 1912; expires December 31, 1913. Crushed stone for municipal purposes only, in carloads, minimum weight 25 tons per car, from Tiffin to the points named, shall be subject to rates in cents per ton of 2000 pounds as follows: To Fort Worth 50 cents, and to Dallas 65 cents. These rates will apply only to T. & P. terminals and all connecting lines. Switching charges shall be in addition thereto.

CLEAN FINGER BOWLS.

Violation of Law to Use the Soiled

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 25.—It will be a misdemeanor in this state to give to a customer a finger bowl that has not been "thoroughly cleansed" since its last preceding use, if a bill, passed by the lower branch of the Pennsylvania legislature last night, becomes a law. The measure was defeated a week ago, but was offered again last night. After G. W. Richards, a member from Allegheny county, had pointed out some of the dangers to public health through careless handling of the bowls, the bill passed by a vote of 14 to 47.

COFFEE TAKES HIGH BULGE

Market Develops Pronounced Strength and Recovers Much of Recent Loss.

New York, Feb. 25.—The coffee market developed pronounced strength today and recovered from 36 to 47 points of its recent losses.

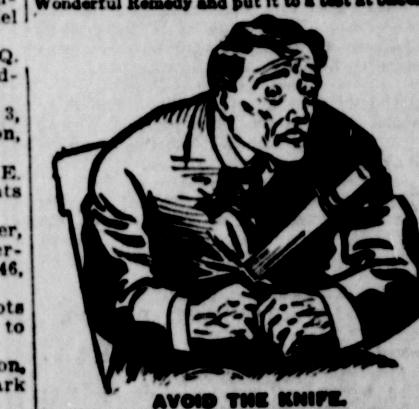

Within the last three or four weeks the market has suffered a decline of nearly 2 cents a pound, owing to general liquidation and aggressive selling, which would seem to have been encouraged by larger estimates of the coming Brazilian crop, more general current crop receipts than expected, the comparatively large sales of valorization coffee this season and a slack demand from roasters. There appeared to be no important change in the average today, while there was active covering by recent sellers and a renewal of bull support which sent prices rapidly higher after a somewhat irregular opening.

Private cables from Hamburg said that leading bulls were accepting all coffee delivered on contract terms and it was reported that in addition to European and local buying there was a considerable demand from Brazil on the advance.

IRON WORKERS DELAY ACTION

Will Do Nothing as to Future Until President Gompers Is Heard From.

Indianapolis, Feb. 25.—Action on all questions involving the future of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, all but two of whose officials were convicted at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial, was ordered deferred today by the delegates at the annual convention until after the visit from Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

After Frank M. Ryan, the president, John T. Butler, the first vice president, and thirty-one other executive board members and business agents of the iron workers' union, were convicted last December of using the union's funds to pay the expenses of John J. McNamara's "dynamite campaign," the members started a plan for reorganizing the union.

President Ryan announced he had received a telegram from Mr. Gompers stating that the latter would be here Thursday. It was said Mr. Gompers was to advise what course to pursue.

DORR WILL TAKE THE STAND.

His Attorney Admits That He Did the Killing.

Salem, Mass., Feb. 25.—Wm. A. Dorr, charged with the murder of George E. Marsh, a retired business man of wealth, will take the stand tomorrow in his own defense. This announcement by counsel afforded the second surprise of the trial today. Earlier, admitted that his client shot Marsh, though, as he asserted, in self-defense. The evidence against Dorr is circumstantial.

The state this morning rested its case in which it has attempted to show that Dorr came east to kill Marsh in order that his aunt, Orpha Marsh, with whom he lived in Stockton, Cal., might profit.

The purpose of Dorr's trip east, the lawyer explained, was to straighten out the $100,000 trust fund held by Marsh for Miss Marsh and to protect the latter's interests. To substantiate this claim, the defense introduced in evidence letters from Miss Marsh to Marsh complaining that her property was being mismanaged.

To Lose Hair, Teeth and Little Toes. Chicago, Feb. 25.—Professor Frederick Starr of the department of anthropology of the University of Chicago told his class today that some time in the future, teeth and the little toes would be missing from members of the human race.

struggles of primitive life, but we, with our hats and our civilization do not need it. Persons with a scant supply of hair seem to die among primitive peoples, but in civilization they increase.

"If teeth and the little toes are to be preserved, then it will be necessary for the civilized inhabitants of this world to get back to nature as soon as possible."

IN COTTON MARKET IN STOCK MARKET

SOMEWHAT MORE ACTIVE AND PRICES SHOW CONSIDERABLE STRENGTH

Improved Spot Demand and Better Political Conditions in Europe and Mexico.

New York, Feb. 25.—The cotton market was somewhat more active today and prices showed considerable strength on reports of an improved spot demand and a more optimistic view of political conditions in Europe and Mexico. The close was firm, and from 1 to 3 points net higher. The market opened steady at a decline on March, which was influenced by scattering liquidation, but generally one point higher in response to steady Liverpool cables. A good demand for March developed right after the call, part of which seemed to originate from undoing of old straddles of that month and May, and this helped to steady up the entire list. Foreign buying was again a factor constituting a large part of the early demand and scattered local selling based on expectation that this support would be withdrawn after the close of Liverpool, held the advance in check during the early trading. The demand did not slacken after arbitrage business had been shut out by the close abroad, but offerings seemed to taper off at about the same time and after a comparatively quiet middle session the market showed increased firmness on covering of shorts, who seemed to become more nervous as prices worked higher. Trading in the last hour was probably more active than at any time previously for over a week and closing prices were at practically the best of the day. Private cables from Liverpool attributed the advance there to continental buying and better hopes of a settlement in the near east.

March was relatively firm after the irregular opening in contrast with its weakness of yesterday and led the afternoon advance.

New Orleans.

New Orleans, Feb. 25.—The principal changes in the cotton market today were caused by rumors regarding legislation to control future trading by congress. In the morning prices were held down by the fear that this explanation was about to be advanced, but in the afternoon the market rose on reports that the bill had been blocked. Outside of this it was much of a weather market, with a favorable weather map, so far as conditions of yesterday were concerned, while the forecast was just the reverse, as it predicted unsettled and rainy weather for every state in the cotton region.

On the opening the tone was steady and prices were unchanged to 2 points down. At the lowest in the early trading the most active months were 2 points down. After the call bulls were inclined to increase their commitments on the forecast of bad weather, but were restrained by Washington news. During the morning the market worked up to a net advance of about 5 points, but this did not hold well and at noon prices were only 1 to 2 points up. In the afternoon there was a quick spurt to a level of 14 to 15 points over yesterday's last quotations, the market closing at a net advance of 12 to 15 points. During the quiet part of the day the ring was quiet and trading was confined to professionals. News from spot centers did not help either side in the contract market, as prices were generally unchanged.

BEAR DRIVE FORCED QUOTATIONS TO LOW POINTS TUESDAY.

Southern Pacific Is Better—Believed Failure of Dissolution Will Help Harrison Stocks.

New York, Feb. 25.—After another bear drive forced quotation of many stocks to new low points for the long decline, the market rallied today. Speculative conditions were little changed. Market was still uncertain and at times decidedly unsettled. New low prices were recorded for Union Pacific, Amalgamated Copper, Steel, St. Paul, Erie, Atchafalaya, the Hill stocks and a long list of less important issues. Activity on the short side was confined principally to the first hour of trading. The market showed little life while the recovery was in progress. Selling of inactive stocks continued, losses running up to 5 points. The one new factor of genuine interest was the decision of the California railroad commission that if the Southern Pacific granted to the Central Pacific the use of its tracks and terminal facilities, the same privileges should be extended to other competing lines. In the opinion of the heads of the Harrison lines, this ruling, if sustained, would interfere seriously with the proposed dissolution plan, and might even cause its failure.

There was some selling of Union Pacific when the significance of this action became known, and the price fell under 15. The most marked effect, however, was upon Southern Pacific, which was bought on the theory that the company would be benefited by the upsetting of the dissolution plan. Southern Pacific became the strongest of the leading issues, rising more than a point above last night's close. Weakness of coppers reflected a further decline in the metals. London quoted lower prices, and in the domestic markets sales of refined copper and delivery were reported at under 15c.

The recent heaviness in bonds, in sympathy with stocks, was unrelieved today, quotations making further progress downward. Total sales per value $2,283,000, United States 28 declined 1/2 per cent on call.

AMONG WHOLESALERS

BINDER TWINE SITUATION PRESENTS A PROBLEM AT THIS TIME.

Supply Is Scarce and Wire, the Only Substitute, Is High—Price Has Taken a Jump.

Matters, taken as a whole, were quieter in wholesale circles yesterday than on any day since the great weather set in. This could hardly be attributed to the overcast and threatening appearance overhead, as the usual number of country wagons were in and took out liberal loads. Dealers think it is a lot due to the fact that country merchants are pretty well stocked and the farming industry is now at its height.

Implement dealers think more plowing and other preparatory work has been done on the farms during the past ten days than in any similar period in the history of this section. When this is the case business has to wait—and it usually cheerfully willing to wait—for it means increased future business.

Hardware dealers report a general upward trend of prices on ironware of every description. There are many causes for this, mainly the recent enormous takings of rails, locomotives and general rolling stock by railroads, to say nothing of the unprecedented demand in building by consumers for structural iron and steel. Bar iron, the basis of all iron and steel prices, now costs $28.50 laid down in Waco, and dealers look for an early advance. An advance of 10 cents per hundred was had thirty days ago.

Up to the present dealers have been unable to get quotations on binder twine. The latest price obtainable some two weeks ago indicated a price of 11 1/2c, against 8 1/2c one year ago, and this was but an intimation for immediate takings, the factories refusing to guarantee any price more than twenty-four hours.

An enormous crop of small grain was raised in Texas, as well as other states, last year and prospects indicate a still larger harvest for Texas at least in 1913.

The Plymouth Cordage company of Plymouth, Mass., advises that more binder twine was sold in Texas last year than ever before in the history of the state.

Taking the above facts into consideration, the binder twine situation presents a problem. The planters made no crop; aial is scarce; the great bulk of it comes from Manila; when the intolent supply is exhausted, the end is reached. Wire, the great and practically the only substitute, is high. Just how the question will be solved, dealers frankly admit they haven't even a guess.

Among the out-of-town visitors to Waco's various wholesale concerns yesterday may be noted:

Sunday School Rallies to Be Held Sunday

Whirlwind Campaign in the County in the Forenoon and a Mass Meeting in the Afternoon.

Preparations for a second great rally of all the Sunday school workers of Waco, the meeting to be held in the Austin Avenue Methodist church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, were made at a meeting of the executive committee having in charge the making of all arrangements for the reception and entertainment of the state Sunday school convention, which will convene for a four days' session here March 18, with from 1500 to 2000 delegates in attendance.

The rally meeting Sunday afternoon will follow a series of rally meetings to be held in the churches of nine of the neighboring towns Sunday morning, each to be led by a worker sent out in an automobile from Waco. These parties will be headed by W. H. Sanger, chairman of the general committee, who will take speakers to Bosqueville, Erath and China Springs; O. M. Weatherly, Robinson, Rosenthal and Levi, and S. M. Hamilton to Hewitt, Lorena and Bruceville.

If the plans of the committee can be carried out, Joel Kincannon of Bruceville will at the same time leave for towns nearest his home with a party of workers. Each of the towns visited will be asked to the number of delegates they can send to the big convention, will be told of the world-famed speakers who will be at the convention, and will be asked to spread the news throughout their territory with a view to having as many workers as possible attend for at least one or two days of the meeting.

Baylor Students Help. Baylor students who have churches near Waco will be seen by S. M. Hamilton at their Friday night prayer meeting and their hearty support and co-operation will be enlisted. It is stated that these young men can do a great deal toward advertising the convention and stirring up enthusiasm among the people for whom they are working.

The rally meeting Sunday will have a two-fold object. In school boy language it will be a "hooray" meeting on the one hand, snappy speeches, full of fire, to be delivered by the best of the local talent, while on the other hand the work of organization will be continued by the committee chairman, members of the great chorus being planned will be selected, the boys' messenger service, which will probably be under the direction of W. J. Mitchell during the convention, will be discussed, decorations for the city will be taken up and the results of the morning work of the four parties announced at this time.

To Advertise the Convention. With the arrival of big posters from the headquarters of the State Sunday School association in Dallas, and of other advertising, the local committees will make arrangements for its distribution to all of the cities along the lines of rail which pass through Waco and central Texas and throughout the country. It is believed that the attendance from McLennan county alone to the convention will break all records of county attendance, not excepting the numbers sent to the last convention from the Dallas neighborhood. Tommie and the other towns of this immediate section will be asked to organize in the same way that Waco has done for the purpose of making missionary trips to the nearby churches to stir up interest in the convention. The local workers believe that the holding of the convention here will mean the beginning of a new era of prosperity in the Sunday school work of central Texas.

Prior to the opening of the mass meeting Sunday, the general committee will hold a meeting for the discussion of details to be presented to the workers. Every member of every committee is to be urged by telephone to be present, that the work of organization may be pushed forward with a rush.

In order that there may be no difficulty in placing all of the delegates during their stay here, Mrs. W. C. Harman, chairman of the hotels and boarding house committees, is anxious that all persons who can care for delegates in their homes, telephone her, giving the number they can care for, whether they can give meals as well as rooms, and the per diem charge, in order that she may make out her list and the delegates can be assigned to the homes promptly on their arrival. Delegates do not desire any free entertainment while here.

The members of the executive committee, which met last night, declared that they had found a general and almost unexpected revival in Sunday school interest throughout the city since it had been definitely decided that the convention will be held in Waco.

This work has been organized in the state almost forty years and has held thirty-eight annual state conventions, and has now grown to such proportions, as to compare favorably with any state Sunday school association in the United States.

The state conventions of Texas have grown from a handful of delegates and workers to one of the largest religious conventions within her borders. Her state workers have grown from weak, bashful question askers until they are now known throughout the United States as one of the strongest teams in the country.

Forty years ago a few thousand represented the number of the Sunday school pupils in the state; now the Texas Sunday school membership is about 565,000 members.

At Dallas last year in their state convention in the face of meningitis all over the state they had over 1500 delegates from within Dallas and the state.

Dallas county is the best organized Sunday school county in the state, having every ward in the city and every precinct in the county organized and holding regular state Sunday schools and last year there was held in the county Sunday schools of all kinds, more than fifty conventions.

In Waco the Sunday school attendance is only about 15 per cent of the population. Bonham, Texas, shows the largest regular Sunday school attendance of any town in the state of its size, showing an attendance at Sunday school of over 80 per cent of its population, a most remarkable showing.

Building Permits. A building permit was issued yesterday to B. E. Hankins, for the construction of an eight-room dwelling on Cumberland street, on University Heights, cost $4,000.

Mrs. Ellen Dwyer secured a permit for an addition of seven rooms at 610 South Fifth street; cost, $3,600.

Permit to J. O. Beckley to construct a cottage, 5 rooms and bath, W. R. Wallace, Jr., contractor; cost, $3,400.

Mrs. J. L. Williams general repairs at 1321 Washington; cost, $200. M. D. Stonehocker, contractor.

Tom Sheppard, Ninth and Cleveland, roof and repairs; cost, $150.

Tie Vote in City Election

Freidlander and Foster Get the Same for Place No. 4, Dollins, Caulfield, Littlefield and Maxwell Winners. Ballot Boxes Under Guard at City Hall.

There were 2592 persons who voted in the city primary yesterday. Of these 2490 voted on the race for city commissioner place No. 4, and they divided half and half in the preference, so that the result between L. Friedlander and John W. Foster is a tie vote.

The election was rather quiet during the day. There was no hurrah or fuss, and the citizenship quietly went about its voting. There were candidates and friends of candidates just outside the chalk mark limits at each polling place, but the buttonholing and persuading usual at an election was absent, and "electioneering" went little farther than merely a salutation, a handshake or the passing of a card.

City Commissioner Caulfield spent the day in the city and in the late evening went to McGregor to "see the folks." It required but a little time to make the count, and there was never a doubt that Dollins, Littlefield and Caulfield had been selected, and John Maxwell appeared to be running well in the lead over Bill Saunders when the first returns came in. The close race at the jump was that of Friedlander and Foster. When the first returns were in, the Fourth ward reported 190 for Foster and 153 for Friedlander. There appeared to some of those having charge of the polls that a mistake had been made in figuring the vote, and at the close when it was found that the two totals were so near together it was decided to recount. When this was done, the result was that Foster lost seven votes and Friedlander gained seven votes. The first grand totals on the race, as figured with the Fourth ward as first reported, gave Foster a majority of fourteen. With the new figures from the fourth ward, it made the grand total a tie vote.

Boxes Are Sealed. The returns were delivered to City Executive Committee Smith at the courthouse. When the tally sheet showed a tie vote between Foster and Friedlander, Mr. Smith at once ordered the boxes sealed and marked. He then designated Steve Flood, W. V. Crawford, Simon Friedlander, Bill Curry and Cecil Foster, a son of the candidate, to remain with the boxes until they could be locked up for the night, in this party being friends of both candidates.

SPEEDERS PAYING TOLL TO COURT FOR JOY RIDING

Officer Gene Dunavan Has Been Catching the Numbers on Austin Avenue for Several Days.

Automobile speeding in Waco is costly. This is evidenced by the number of arrests and fines that have been made and assessed during the past week. The police department has had a special man on the job constantly and the speeding fiends have been called on—twenty-six in all—to gauge the number of miles they were clipping off an hour as testimony before Police Judge J. G. Wren. After hearing the testimony of Policeman Gene Dunavan, officer assigned to this duty, the city magistrate has assessed a $5 fine in twenty-one cases, a $10 fine in two cases and two cases are still pending.

Racing up and down the paved streets has been a pleasure indulged in for many weeks without interference. They always watched the speedometer so long as they were in the portion of the city under police regulations, but when they got beyond the beat limits they failed to notice the speed register and did not care very much for anything save to outdistance all other motorists on the street.

Residents became indignant and were afraid to venture on the street in the vicinity of Eighteenth and Austin and Washington streets. They complained and their complaint was printed in the Morning News. The city officials began an investigation and found the speeding practice going on in many parts of the city.

The next step in the investigation was the assignment of Policeman Dunavan to "grab speeders." He has been busy since February 20. Six arrests were made on that date, one on February 21, six on February 22 and thirteen on February 24.

In many instances the police officer notified automobile owners to appear in police court and answer a charge of speeding after he had witnessed a speed contest on prominent streets. He said that he caught two speeders on South Fifth street a few nights ago trying to break the record established by Barney Oldfield. One of the racers was from Temple.

According to complaints that have reached the Morning News, this speeding practice has been going on in the suburbs for many weeks. Several persons have narrowly escaped being run down.

The police department has started a rigid campaign against speeding and will carry it on until the autoists reconcile themselves to a moderate speed. Gene Dunavan has spent long hours on the western part of Austin avenue. He stands near a convenient tree, or telephone pole, with his note book in hand and "catches the number" as the speeders pass.

DIBRELL IS MARSHAL. Named by Judge Maxey to Fill Short Term Vacancy.

John Dibrell of San Antonio yesterday was appointed United States marshal of the western Texas district by Federal Judge Maxey of Austin to succeed Bert J. McDowell, who resigned Monday.

The appointment has not been confirmed by the government, but it likely will be in due course of time. The resignation of Mr. McDowell came as a surprise. He notified his deputy here that he would not attend the Waco February term of court, which convened Monday, and that he had tendered his resignation.

The new appointee was formerly a deputy under Eugene Nolte before he resigned. He is thoroughly acquainted with the work.

EIGHTEENTH STREET PAVING

Petition Asking That Nine Blocks of the Roadway Be Improved.

A petition for the paving of Eighteenth street from Austin avenue to Colonial avenue, a distance of about nine blocks, with permanent paving, the exact character to be left to the city commission, was presented to the commission yesterday morning by a delegation of property owners, headed by Editor A. R. McCollum of the Tribune.

The petition carries the names of a majority of the property owners on the street and these owners hold considerable more than half of the front footage. The petition was sent through the usual channel, going first to the city attorney, to be examined as to form.

Mr. McCollum pointed out the fact that there is a small park along one side of Eighteenth street, which the city will probably have to curb and pave on one side, the property owners having nothing to do with this side of the street. He urged that the city show a spirit of encouragement toward property owners who desire paving by doing its duty in this matter and not holding back on the paving of Eighteenth street simply because the park is there and will mean an additional expenditure by the city.

INTERURBAN BRIDGE

WORK IS PROCEEDING ON THE PIERS IN THE BRAZOS RIVER.

First Open Cofferdam Work in This City—Steel Construction in 30 Days.

Karner Brothers & Co., of Dallas, who have the contract for building the piers for the interurban bridge across the Brazos, are rushing the work to a rapid completion. G. E. Budge, in charge of the work for the contractors, stated yesterday that with present conditions prevailing it would only be a matter of thirty days or so until steel construction could be commenced. Fifty men are at work sinking the coffer dams and filling them with concrete.

The method being employed in the pier construction is known as the open coffer dam method. The coffer dams of concrete are constructed on the surface with open bottoms. Excavations are then made from the inside, and the box-like affair allowed to sink gradually into position. Pumps are kept running continually to keep out the water. After being placed, the coffer dams are sealed and filled with concrete. The walls of the coffer dam then become part of the pier, and no temporary construction is necessary.

The middle pier struck rock at sixteen feet and already is sealed. The East Waco pier was sealed last night, after striking rock at seventeen feet. This is the first open coffer dam work done in this section of the country, and has proven peculiarly suited to the conditions found in the Brazos bed.

Following the pier construction, the Wisconsin Bridge and Iron company of Milwaukee, which has the steel contract, will take charge and rush the work of spanning the river. G. G. Wickline, bridge engineer for the Southern Traction company, was in the city looking over the work yesterday, and expressed himself pleasantly concerning the progress that is being made.

PRODUCE AND FRUIT DEALERS.

Waco Will Be Represented at the Austin Meeting.

Waco will be well represented at the called meeting of the Texas Wholesale Producers and Fruit Dealers at Austin today. Secretary J. C. Dillard and a representative from each of the wholesale produce houses left last night for the capital.

The meeting was called about a week ago by Frank F. Finks of Austin, president of the organization. Its purpose is to discuss important matters that need the attention of the wholesalers in the way of improved legislation, and other measures that can be arbitrated outside of the law.

The Rotan Grocery company, Cooper Grocery company, Taylor-Hanna-James company, Turner-Caulfield company, Turner Brokerage company and W. R. Davidson & Co. all sent representatives.
